Progress of College Shown in Plans for Summer School Here

Courses in Classics and Possibly Other Subjects will be Offered.

Another step forward in the development of Waterloo College will be the inauguration of a Summer Session during the coming summer. The College authorities at present are drawing up plans to make this a possibility.

According to tentative plans, the summer session will run from July 4th to August 15th, lectures to be given on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

The courses, which primarily are confined to Honour and Pass Classics, will be free of charge for all College students, as well as others of College status. Other courses will be added if called for by a sufficient number of students and if instructors will be obtainable. A nominal fee will be required in this case.

Regular College work of 1932-1933 Academic Year will be begun and pursued as far as time permits.

There will be no examinations at the end of the course in August; the regular examinations in January and May will have to be written to obtain credits.

Broad Latin Hint Has No Success With Pest

A foreign student here whose chief indoor sport is borrowing brooms and mops from other students in order to keep his living quarters in a constant state of spotless cleanliness was the chief figure recently in a poignant drama enacted entirely in Latin by remote control.

Deeming it advisable to supply him with a broom in order to check further deprivations on his part, a few students placed an ancient, dog-eared, moth-eaten dust-raiser before his door. Attached to the broom was a Christmas card and on the card the words:

"Pestis semper, hac genesta uti."

Wm. NOLTING, '33, CHOSEN EDITOR OF "THE COLLEGE CORD" FOR 1932

New Executive Assumes Duties in February; Reporters still to be Appointed.

William Nolting, '33, of Stratford, was chosen editor-in-chief of "The College Cord" for 1932, at the annual election of officers held January 15. He succeeds E. G. Neigh, who, with the other members of the Senior Class, is retiring from the staff this month.

The promotions resulted as follows: Karl Knauff, '33, business manager; Dorothy Tailby, '33, associate editor; Ryerson Casselman, '33, circulation manager; Harvey Goos, '34, advertising manager; Clare Kruspe, '34, assistant advertising manager; Audrey Froats, '34, assistant editor; Herman Scherbarth, '34, men's physical training instructor.

Dr. M. Markley of U.L.C.A.

Board of Education Pays

Visit to Local College

Addresses Students after Chapel Service and Meets Co-eds at Tea.

Stressing the fact that students in their daily life and conduct should be true Christians, Dr. Mary Markley, of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church of America, gave local students an inspiring address after the chapel service on January 6th. Dr. Markley, in the course of her inspection of educational institutions of the church, visited the college for several days, attending classes and becoming acquainted with the students.

Dr. Markley said that she was studying the question "What are students to-day thinking about?" She declared that there are still many students who take into their life work and daily living the thought of Christ. However, she pointed out that the reason many foreign students, like Indians or South Americans, who have been taught Christianity renounce it after studying on this continent is that over here they often cannot distinguish between Christian and non-Christian students.

College Hockey Team Defeats Mutual Life In Exhibition Game

Locals Have Little Trouble Trimming Insurance men by 5-1 Count.

On Thursday, Jan. 14th, the Waterloo College hockey team defeated the Mutual Life 5-1, in an exhibition game at the Kitchener auditorium. The game proved quite exciting for the few supporters who did attend, although after the first period there was little doubt as to the outcome. However the Mutual Life put up a good battle with Hirons and Enns outstanding.

In the first period, two goals were scored by the College, by Lawson and Ault, respectively. Knauff was responsible for the College's three tallies in the second period, two on rebounds from Ault, and one by a spectacular lone rush when he stick-handled his way through the Mutual Life team and scored. Hirons scored the Mutual Life's one goal just before the end of the period.

Gordier in goal for the College, played a very careful game, making doubly sure of very shot, letting the puck pass him only once. Lawson, Gomann and Casselman provided

Will Engage Another Professor in Classics

According to an announcement made recently by President F. B. Clausen, another classics professor to assist those now teaching in that department will be hired here. The further development of the honor courses in this subject next year will necessitate an additional man, the president stated.

The decision to increase the faculty was reached at a special meeting of the Board of Governors here on Wednesday.

Classics professors working here at present are Dean Willis C. Froats, and Rev. S. W. Hirtle. Other than the addition of another man in this department, no changes in the faculty for next year are slated as yet.

Valedictory. In a few short months the men and women who have guided the activities of "The College Cord" during the past year will be among the Alumni of Waterloo College. This issue marks the close of our active participation in the work of publishing the "Cord". With the next edition a new staff, with new ideas, new thoughts, new hopes, but the same old ideals, will be carrying on the work which we have loved.

Although "The College Cord" has concluded only its sixth year, it is a paper possessed of traditions: traditions of men who, with nothing to show as a guarantee, sold enough advertisements and subscriptions in one summer to enable them to start a newspaper; traditions of men who toiled often late into the night editing the "Cord"; traditions of men who refused to admit defeat and nursed the Cord through a struggling infancy into lusty youth; traditions of men whose ideals would not permit them to turn their backs.

These men, our predecessors, gave us "The College Cord". We have endeavored to carry on their work and to keep their ideals untarnished. We are proud to be enabled to join their ranks.

You who follow us have work to do,—hard work. But it is a work which you shall love as we have loved it.

The result of your efforts will be watched closely by your fellow students; by your professors; by your friends outside of the College; and by your predecessors, the Alumni host.

Will they regard your work with approval?

It depends on you. And, knowing you as we do, we have no fear for the future.

—w—

An Association For The Alumnae? What of the ladies? The same old question comes again, but in a new setting. The ladies have invaded another masculine stronghold; this time it is the Alumni Association. Shall they be asked to participate in the Annual Dinner and Meeting to be held in May?

Under the present scheme of organization the graduating co-eds have every right to expect invitations, and to accept them. Yet the men will feel that it is not so much a matter of right as of expediency. Shall the typically "stag" tone of the meetings, unique and traditional even in so few years, be forever changed by the co-eds?

The question is even deeper than this. The entire policy of the College towards its graduates, particularly with regard to ensuring alumni support and co-operation, is here concerned. Will the best interests of the future be served by one association, or by two?

It is a question to be considered earnestly by those who plan for the future of the graduating class, the Alumni, and the College.

CONCORDS

Well, they're all over now. At least, for three months.

During the two weeks of examinations the leave-book was left unusually bare—except, of course, on Saturday nights.

We can look forward now to the annual "dog days" at the College. The second semester in other years has proved to be rather a dull season. There seemed to be nothing to do except study.

During the course of our readings in history, we come across a statement that University students in the Middle Ages were required to sign a contract, before examinations, declaring that if they failed they would not use a dagger or knife on their professors. Tsk! Tsk! Of course, no one would ever think of doing that in these enlightened times.

A number of the Seniors, eyeing the continuance of the depression, are wondering what is going to become of them after graduation.

Apparently a surgeon is needed at the school. A sign on the bulletin board, recently, read: "The books for logic are in Prof. _____."

The week's pathetic figure: the Senior who studied six hours one day for the wrong examination.

Before retiring from the staff, we would like to make our old plea, once more: patronize our advertisers. If you do, you will be aiding the merchants who have given us their advertising and will also be helping "The College Cord" and thus the school.

Two Seminary graduates—"Ab" Lotz and J. Hammeester, put in an appearance at Alma Mater Friday and reported that all is well with them and their congregations.

Work on the "Occidentalia" has been practically completed, but the book will not be published for some weeks yet.

This issue being our last one before the new staff takes office, we can say, as does a certain radio vocalizer at the end of her program, "Thanks for listenin'".

The Dean Helps Again. Once again has our Dean sponsored a great forward step in the history of the College. This time it is the inauguration of summer courses here, beginning with the coming summer.

In the past Dean Froats has shown himself ever ready to sacrifice all kinds of time and seemingly boundless energy for the sake of the school. Now he is abandoning his personal plans for the summer in order to be able to give Waterloo College this additional accomodation.

Hats off again to Dean Froats!

Students' Convention In Buffalo Recently Was Inspiring Affair

Local Delegates Impressed by Magnitude of Students' Volunteer Movement.

(By William Nolting)

Anyone who looks upon conventions as a series of dry-as-dust sessions, where everyone goes around with a forced smile in a state of make-believe enjoyment, should have attended the Eleventh Quadrennial Convention of the Students' Volunteer Movement, which was held in Buffalo December 30 to January 3. I vouch that his theories would have been changed.

The Student Volunteer Movement is characterized by two words—"Student" and "Missionary". In spirit and administration it is definitely student; in purpose and program, it is distinctively missionary. Its activities center in colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada where it interprets Christian missions and enlists students for missionary service abroad. It is interdenominational and relates well-qualified candidates to the various sending agencies.

The objectives of this movement are: (1) To provide and carry out an adequate program of missionary education; (2) To challenge Christian students to choose their vocation in line with the purpose of God in the life of the world and the will of God for their own lives; (3) To recruit from among students well-qualified men and women for Christian service abroad; (4) To relate such recruits to the various missionary sending agencies; (5) To provide a fellowship designed to crystallize missionary interest into an ever deepening conviction, which will find expression either in service abroad or in intelligent interest in and support of the missionary enterprise.

Only by attending one of the conventions can one get an estimate of the extent of the movement not only in regard to the membership but also in regard to the work accomplished. Every province of Canada and every state of the United States was represented, not mentioning the representatives from many other countries of the world.

It was a very impressive sight to see three thousand people of almost every creed, colour and nationality seated together to make up one vast audience. In one row alone one sometimes would find as many as eight or nine races represented.

But although they were many racially, they were all one spiritually; all had come to hear the messages of men and women, who have borne witness to the cause of Christ in home and foreign mission fields; all had come to discern, and to find solutions for the problems which vex the nations to-day: all had come to receive enlightenment and inspiration in order to find the niche which they should fill in their walk of life.

Although I consider it a difficult and almost impossible task to convey the spirit of such a gathering to those who were not present, I nevertheless carry the conviction that it has left a deep impression on my mind and has stored up an abundant supply of food for thought for many years to come.

Although probably only a small percentage of those who attended will go into active missionary service, I feel assured that everyone stored away in some corner of his or her heart ideas and convictions which someday will blossom forth for some service to mankind, be it ever so small.

Editor's Note: Waterloo College and Seminary were represented at this convention by President Clausen, George Durst and the writer of the above article, W. Nolting.

Attendance at Meeting of Cossmann-Hayunga is Largest Seen This Term

Helen Willison and Walter Goos
Give Addresses Dealing with Missions.

A marked increase in attendance was found at the meeting of the Cossmann-Hayunga missionary society on the evening of January 12.

After the opening devotionals, conducted by E. Larsen, and the disposal of several items of business, Miss H. Willison gave an interesting account of the missionary work in South America.

Miss Willison gave a summary of all the different races found on that continent, claiming that one-quarter of the inhabitants were native Indians of whom the majority were still heathen.

She also told of the gradual introduction of the Protestant religion in the country which formerly had been purely Roman Catholic. The need of missionaries and teachers was also stressed. She stated that at present there were only two Lutheran missions in South America, one in British Guiana and the other in Argentine.

Walter Goos gave a brief resume of the inner mission activities of the church in Ontario and Manitoba. He stressed the need for missionaries in Manitoba, claiming that there are Lutheran people in that province who have not seen a minister for more than three years.

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

For the Benefit of those Who Arrived late.

Chicken dinners and Alumni meetings, what connection have they with each other? No answer is necessary. Those, who have attended the College Alumni banquets understand completely: those who were not there do not know what they missed.

Chicken was on the menu at Schweitzer's Hotel in Conestogo on May 25th, 1927, when the place was invaded by a group of hungry young men and equally hungry professors. The fact that all had been sitting down to banquets every day in that graduation week made no difference to the appetites. There were eight of them: Baetz, Keffer, Klinck, Lotz, Miller and Schultz, together with Dr. Alex. Potter, then dean, and Dr. Nils Willison, the registrar, and honorary president of the class. They will never forget that meal. No ordinary banquet this! The chicken was passed around, country-style, in huge dishes. No one could tell exactly how much chicken Lotz had, or how many olives Dr. Willison ate. We are certain that Dr. Potter had as much of both in spite of his "wise-cracks".

But this is no place for gossip. Some business was accomplished in that a committee was appointed to prepare a formal constitution for the proposed Alumni Association.

This constitution was duly approved at the first regular meeting held in the Chapel on October 13th, 1927. Albert Lotz was elected first president, and the Association was started on its career.

There were 16 members to start with. All who were officers of instruction in Waterloo College at the time when the first class graduated were admitted to regular membership. It was felt that these pioneers had an interest in the College as vital as that of the graduates themselves.

Four annual meetings and banquets have been held:

May 31, 1928, Nicholson's Inn, Blair; May 27, 1929, "Hermie" Wagner's, Bridgeport; May 31, 1930, Nicholson's Inn, Blair; May 30, 1931, "Hermie" Wagner's Bridgeport.

A fairly large percentage of total members was present at each meeting. Dr. Potter, now of Zurich, Switzerland, Dean Froats, and Pre-

ANYONE WISHING additional copies of this issue may procure the same by notifying the circulation manager. The wealth of data concerning the alumni association contained in this issue may prove valuable at some future date.

Waterloo College Serves Community

Approximately 35 per cent. of the graduates of Waterloo College of the first five years were residents of Kitchener, or Waterloo, or the immediate vicinity.

With this figure may be compared the estimate that at least 55 per cent. of the students enrolled at present reside in this community.

Former Dean Attends Disarmament Meeting

Dr. Potter is European Secretary for Rotary.

The honour of representing Rotary International at the Public Conference on International Disarmament, held in Paris late in November, fell to Dr. Alex. O. Potter, formerly dean of Waterloo College, now connected with Rotary work. In addition to being a delegate, he was on the Council of Arrangements, which included among others, Viscount Cecil of Chelwood and former Premier Herriot.

Dr. Potter was formerly connected with the Rotary International in Chicago. In August, 1930, he took up his duties as European secretary for that organization. He is a man of many activities, as all who knew him at Waterloo can testify. Although his headquarters are at 74 Bahnhofstrasse, Zurich, Switzerland, his territory covers Continental Europe, Asia Minor and Africa, north of the Equator! He seems to be constantly on the move from England to Greece and from Germany to Morocco.

Founder and first dean of Waterloo College.

President Clausen, have been special speakers at these occasions.

In addition to these meetings, the Association has sponsored reunions during the graduation weeks of 1930 and 1931. Both were highly successful. The Alumni were honoured in having as patrons the following: President and Mrs. F. B. Clausen; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Homuth; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Weichel; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Laing; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Tweed, M.P.P.; Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Needles; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. O. Lohead.

Since the classes of '31 and '32 include co-eds, a special arrangement for the Alumnae is to be expected for the next annual meeting.

The Association, at present, has a roll of 43 regular members and many associate members.

"WHEN THE RO" (Graduates)

Fred Ahrens, '28, has achieved a splendid record to date. While in residence at Columbia University, New York, 1928-1931, Fred was part-time instructor in German. In 1930 he received his M.A., in that subject from Columbia; in October, 1931, he passed his Doctor's examinations for the same. At present, he is studying at the University of Berlin, Germany. His address is Hegel Haus, Am Kupfergraben 5, Berlin, N. 24.

Harry Baetz, '27, like many others, has chosen the less glamorous but abundantly worth-while profession of the gospel ministry. After graduating from Waterloo Seminary in May, 1929, he took the parish at Chesley, Ontario, where he is now stationed. Harry married Miss Alice Heinrich of Waterloo.

Arthur Buehlow, '30, spent a year at Mount Airy Lutheran Seminary, at Philadelphia, before returning to Waterloo Seminary. He is now in his middle year.

Hubert Casselman, '31, is back at Waterloo College and is working toward an Honour Degree in Classics.

Harold Crouse, '30, is in his second year at the Lutheran Seminary, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. He was student pastor of Conquerall Parish during the past summer. His home is at Lapland, N.S.

Rowe Cunningham, '28, one of the Old Reliables among the Alumni, spent a year of graduate study in English at Columbia University, 1928-1929. During the next year he graduated from the College of Education in Toronto. Since then, he has been teaching in High Schools in Toronto. He is now at Vaughan Road Collegiate.

Albert Datars, '28, another theologian, graduated from Waterloo Seminary in May, 1929. He is married to Miss Leona Fries of Kitchener. Since then, he has been stationed at Desboro, Ontario. He is enthusiastic about the College; may his tribe increase!

Fred Goos, '31, is at present studying at the Lutheran Theological Seminary (Mount Airy) Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He is student assistant at the Lutheran Seaman's Home there. His home address is 1625 King St., Preston.

Walter Goos, '30, spent a year at the Seminary now attended by his brother, Fred. He has now returned to complete his theological course at Waterloo Seminary. He has been supplying in the Owen Sound parish. Wally is the same as ever. Need we say more?

Gerald Hagey, '28, our Senator, has chosen the field of business. Since graduation, he has held a position in the Advertising Department of the Canadian Goodrich Company. He is married to Miss Weichel of Waterloo, and is living in Kitchener.

Louis Hagey, '29, is going to be a lawyer by profession and a Liberal in politics. Where this will bring him no one can tell! At present, he is living at 628 Huron St., Toronto, and attending Osgoode Hall. His scholastic record there has been exceptionally good.

Henry Heidman, '28, spent a year at Columbia University in graduate study in History, and obtained his M.A. degree. Then, a year at College of Education in Toronto, followed by High School teaching in London and, at present, in Georgetown, Ontario. He is married to Miss Marion Kress of Kitchener.

Albert Herbert, '29, spent a year at the College of Education, and is now a High School teacher in Mimico. What! Separated from John? Sad but true. Ab's friends will regret to hear that he was laid up for some time during this winter on account of illness.

John Herbert, '29, parted with Ab, after graduating from the College of Education, to take a position in Midland, where he is particularly interested in physical training work. He is taking summer courses in pedagogy and cadet work.

Norman Keffer, '29, has entered the gospel ministry. He graduated from Waterloo Seminary in 1929. He serves the congregation at Windsor. He is married to Miss Irene Montgomery of Maple, and lives at 1105 Parent Ave., Windsor.

Walter Koerber, '30, spent a year at the College of Education, Toronto. Now Librarian and head of the English Department, Junior Vocational School, Toronto. Walter is specializing in summer courses. He lives at 312 Huron St., Toronto.

"ALL IS CALLED" (es Only)

Herbert Kalbfleisch, '28, another aspiring German Scholar, has taught and studied at New York University, 1928-1931, and at Columbia 1931. In 1930 he received his M.A. degree from the former. He is married to Miss Pearl Koch of Kitchener. He now enjoys the unique distinction of being on the staff of the University of Western Ontario. He lives at 20 Lord Dufferin Apartments, London.

Carl Klinck, '27, pursued the study of theology in Waterloo Seminary for the term, 1927-1928, and of English in Columbia University at various periods, 1928-1931. Received M.A., in 1929. On the staff of Waterloo College in the English department for 3 years; now associate professor. Honorary president of Class of '32. Lives at 91 Arthur St., Elmira.

Albert Lotz, '27, graduated from Waterloo Seminary in May, 1930. Now pastor, with two years' experience of Christ's Lutheran Church, Maynooth, Ontario, the first regular pastor of this congregation. Ab is married to Miss Hester Kelterborn.

Arthur Mehlenbacher, '30, is the progressive pastor of the oldest Lutheran church in Ontario at Morrisburg. He graduated from Waterloo Seminary in 1927; and received the B.D. degree from the University in May, 1931. He is following a further course of graduate study. As a member of the executive of the Luther League of America, he has done exceptional work.

John Miller, '27, graduated from Waterloo Seminary in 1928. He is one of the few graduates serving outside of Ontario. He is in Berne, New York.

Victor Monk, '29, has had experience of less than a year in the ministry in the parish at Brantford. He graduated from Waterloo Seminary in 1931. He lives at 61 King St., Brantford.

George Orth, '31, is pursuing theological studies in the Seminary at Waterloo.

George Roberts, '29, is a business man. He has been connected with McBrine's Ltd., in Kitchener since his graduation. His energy and ability are shown in that he is president of the Y's Men's Club in Kitchener.

Harold Ruppel, '28, has entered the field of High School teaching. After graduating from the College of Education, he took a position at Ottawa, which he was forced, by ill-health, to give up during his second year. He is now in Fergus, Ontario, teaching the boys their first rugby.

Lloyd Schaus, '30, is another High School teacher. A year at the College of Education, has brought him his present position in Simcoe, Ontario.

Wilfred Schweitzer, '28, has studied at Columbia University, 1928-1929, and the College of Education, 1929-1930. He is still pursuing graduate work, though engaged in High School teaching at Chesley, Ontario. He is married to Miss Barbara Livingston.

Earle Shelley, '28, was on the staff of Waterloo College from 1928-1931 in the French department. During the past year he published a book of poems, "Fallen Petals". His interest in military affairs has brought him a Captain's Commission in the Fusiliers. He is married to Miss Eileen Becker and is pursuing further studies in Toronto.

Garnet Schultz, '27, one of the "originals" and a theologian. Upon graduation from Waterloo Seminary in 1929, he was called to the New Dundee parish, which he is still serving. He is married to Miss Evangeline Smith.

Louise Twietmeyer, '30, must feel very much alone among all these men, yet she is a graduate in her own right, the first of the co-eds at Waterloo. She is pursuing further studies and is on the staff at the College.

Theodore Wagner, '28, has been teaching in the Collegiate at Guelph ever since his graduation from the College of Education in 1929.

Harry Weir, '29, is a coming lawyer. He has been studying at Osgoode Hall and spending his spare moments in the company of Louis Hagey. We are almost sure that Harry must be a Liberal.

Arthur Zilliox, '28, completes the trio at Osgoode Hall. They are all due to be called to the Bar in 1932. "Pat" is living at 30 Dundonald St., Toronto.

Ministry Leads As Profession

That 42 per cent of the graduates of Waterloo College are in the Lutheran ministry, or in training for it, is shown by a survey of professions entered by the Alumni.

Teaching comes next, with 30 per cent. in the High Schools, and 12 per cent. on College faculties.

Among the Associate Alumni Members

Some gossip about those not affiliated with any graduating class.

They come back to Waterloo! Even though they leave for several years, some of them do come back again. Our records show about a half dozen names of men whom we had added to our lists as forever among the "Associate Members" and who have now returned as students!

Fred Janzen, in his Senior year at Western, is president of the Glee Club there.

Elford Brent, now a Commerce graduate, is holding a position with the International Business Machines in Montreal.

Grant MacLennan is at Osgoode Hall.

Norbert Mueller, better known as "Stuffy", an old Waterloo boy, is starring as goal-keeper for Nationals in Senior O.H.A. "Norbie", as he is better known here, played hockey for some years for the College School. He is generally regarded as the best of amateur goalies.

James Lohead, Rudolph Breithaupt and Rev. G. A. Gordier are completing their undergraduate work at Waterloo.

Rev. James Vorkoper, who was stationed at Galt for some years, is at the Lutheran Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Rev. William Schultz is pastor at Linwood, Ont.

Rev. Louis Bald is serving a congregation in Des Plaines, Illinois.

It's a strange thing, but the fact remains that any Alumni in the vicinity of Waterloo always pays a visit to "Alma Mammy". Scarcely a month goes by without a few welcome calls.

Dr. Willison Helped Found Association

Was Honorary President of First Graduating Class.

Dr. Nils Willison, now president of the Board of Governors of Waterloo College and Seminary, took an active part in the founding of the Alumni Association. As Honorary President of the first graduating class, he aided in drawing up the constitution. At that time, he was registrar of the College, the first to hold that office.

Since that time, he represented the Association for several years in the Senate of the University of Western Ontario.

Dr. Willison is now pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Hamilton.

If the members of the present Senior class all graduates, twelve more people will be added to the Alumni Association, three of them being of the fair sex. This will be the largest graduating class in the history of the College, the next largest being the class of '28, comprising ten men.

"THE COLLEGE CORD" wishes to thank Professor Carl F. Klinck for his assistance with the alumni section of this issue. The compilation of all the facts about our graduates published here was effected entirely by him.

College Cagers Lose to Collegiate Quintette in Dying Moments of Game

Locals Have Ten-point Lead Midway in Second Half but Falter.

In a close and fast game of basketball, the K-W. Collegiate defeated the College team at the Collegiate gymnasium on Wednesday, January 13th. The full time score was 23-20.

The game from start to finish was a battle between two closely matched teams. Due to the close checking by both teams, numerous foul shots were handed out. The College team scored the first points on field goals by Ruch and Scherbarth. These field goals were followed by two foul shots which Sterling and Dinger sank for the Collegiate. At half time the score was 10-7 for the College.

The school team started the second half with a rush and at one time had a lead of ten points. However, they could not hold the lead and when the final whistle blew the score was 23-20 in favor of the Collegiate. Ruch sank three field goals this period and in the entire game got 9 of the twenty points. Dinger of the Collegiate scored four field goals.

The teams are:

K-W. Collegiate: Dinger, Sterling, Milhousen, Bullock, Bean, Scott, Shantz, McLennan, Boehmer, Dunke.

Waterloo College: Scherbarth, Neeb, Reble, Ruch, Jones, Casselman, Alberti.

revertible and inculpable legerdemain with which it manipulates domestic iconography not only is inimitable but non-chimerical. If the ultimate accumulation should prove an obnoxious umbrage the Commission "in toto" intrepidly covenants to retrogress to the ignominiously primitive conglomeration incrementally accruing from a proletarian assestude.

For the benefit of those who cannot comprehend this exposition of its activities and beneficialities, it might be added that this promulgation of esoteric cogitations is contributed so that the contumacious and contumacious may acquire an insight into the intricacies of the Commission incorporated for the promulgation of the abolition of preposterous idiosyncrasies and the promotion of atmospheric attollence of academic endeavour and scholastic supererogation.

The new staff takes office in February, and will be bolstered by the addition of a number of reporters.

An odd co-incidence is that the editor-elect and retiring editor are room-mates, share the same pigeon-hole in the mail box, and live on the same street in the same city.

Other Senior members of the staff who are retiring are Herman Little, business manager; Alvin Pauli, circulation manager; Margery Tailby, associate editor; Verna Lauman, assistant business manager; and Elizabeth Spohn, sports editor.

An Irishman, working for a Dutchman, asked for an increase in pay. The Dutchman replied: "If you are worth it, I would be pleased to give it to you; now, let us see what you do in a year, Pat. We have 365 days in a year; you sleep 8 hours every day, which makes 122 days you sleep, taken from 365 days, leaves 243. Now you have 8 hours recreation each day, which makes 122 days, take this from 243 days, leaves 121 days. We have 52 Sundays in a year, which you do not work, leaving 69 days. You have 14 days' vacation, this leaves 55 days. You don't work Saturday afternoons; this makes 26 days in a year, leaving 29 days. Now Pat, you allow 1½ hours for meals, which totals 28 days in a year. Take this from 29 days and it leaves only one day, and as I always give you St. Patrick's Day off, I ask you, Pat, are you entitled to a raise?"

Pat answered, "Well, what the — have I been doing then?"

College Loses Exhibition Basketball Game at Y.

An exciting exhibition of basketball in which Waterloo College lost by a score of 22-14, was played against the Kitchener-Waterloo 'Y' O.A.B.A. team on Tuesday evening, January 5th. This game was called to give both teams some practise before entering the O.A.B.A. league.

Kitchener turned out a very strong all-star team. Schultz, who netted 11 points, was perhaps their outstanding player. O'Leary played a rare defensive game. This five-men encircling combination worked fine, but it did not give them any points, for while using such a combination no man was in a position to shoot.

The College turned out two full teams changing the forward and defence lines several times. The combination of both forward lines was very good. Both the second forward and second defence lines showed that they were rapidly becoming strong. Although the Waterloo team play was very good, their poor shooting lost the game for them.

The line-up:

Kitchener 'Y' O.A.B.A.: Schultz, Fulerton, Marsland, Schaefer, Eggert, O'Leary and Gordon.

Waterloo College: Neeb, Ruch, Scherbarth, Casselman, Jones, Reble, Neff, Krupe, Eydt and S. Alberti.

Referee: Doug. Brown.

Sport Comments

Now that the examinations are over and the school has settled down into the routine of the second semester, the sport activities of the College which have been called off temporarily, will be resumed. The parallel bars and mat class will renew their practices; the P. T. classes will commence again and the girls will continue their basketball.

On account of the schedule of the O.A.B.A. the members of the boys' team have had to turn out to practices and games during the two weeks of examinations. This has helped the boys work off cramped muscles resulting from long hours of writing and studying.

According to reports the badminton fans have been playing in the gymnasium every night. The ladder will be posted soon. As the entrants will have more time now, it is expected that there will be still more playing.

The hockey team certainly made a good showing in the game against the Mutual Life. Unfortunately the weatherman has been most unkind, and since then no other games have been played.

On account of there being no ice at the Waterloo rink, due to unfavorable weather conditions, no games have been played in the Waterloo Town League. However, if the weather allows ice the League will go forward. The schedule will probably be arranged so as to permit three games to be played a night. If there is no ice it is likely that a single schedule will be played at the Kitchener Arena.

Some of the students here have developed the habit of "razzing" the members of the basketball team. This is no great crime as long as it is confined to mere "kidding" about the school. But when it is carried to the extent of casting aspersions on the playing of the team during a game, a protest is necessary. If you have criticisms of the style of play of any member of the team, there is no need of shouting this out during a game, or of making "wise-cracks" at the team's expense in order to impress the little lady beside you. Wait until the game is over and then tell the players in private, if you must get it off your chest. The team, while playing, has enough to contend with, without having its own so-called supporters jibing from the gallery. Shades of Louis Hagey and Mike Stoskopf! Give the team a break!

Basketball Team off to Bad Start in First Three Games of O. A. B. A.

Lose to Brantford, Woodstock, and Galt; Latter close Game.

In their first game of the O.A.B.A. League, Group 'A', the Waterloo College Basketball team met the strong Brantford eagles on the Kitchener 'Y' floor, Saturday, January 9th for a severe loss, leaving the floor with the final score 42-15. The Waterloo players were playing a good game but they had no way of meeting the offensive play of the Brantford team. The latter turned out with three tall men, two of whom were sharpshooters, missing a relatively small number of the shots at the basket. When they did miss they were able to overreach the Waterloo guards and tap the ball through the loop. Their steady advance was well seen by half time when the score stood 23-12.

As soon as the second half started they continued their former tactics. When the forwards could not work their way to the basket for a shot, the ball was passed back to the guards who came up and shot from near center. If their shots failed to score, the tall forwards reached up and tapped the ball until it finally went in or was carried away by a Waterloo player. During this half, Waterloo College was able to score only one basket and gain another point by a foul shot, making the final score 42-15.

Lose to Woodstock.

In the second game of this group, the Waterloo five motored to Woodstock on Thursday, January 14th, to meet another tall team. Here they faced four six-footers at the tip-off. Both teams were at a disadvantage on the Armouries floor, which had been used a short time before for a dance. Good checking was an impossibility for either team, and one or other of the players would find themselves on their knees every few minutes. Besides their advantage of height, the Woodstock players were able to make their baskets count.

from almost any place on the floor. 17 points were scored by the opponents in the first ten minutes of play, but after Waterloo became a little used to the waxed floor, they began to check better and the half-time score was 27-8.

The College team showed much better playing in the second half holding the Woodstock players down to six baskets and gaining four points themselves.

Hard Luck Here

The third game of the O.A.B.A. league was played on the Kitchener 'Y' floor, when Waterloo College met the Galt team. Both teams were fighting hard for the victory but the College players were not able to make the ball go through the loop, giving the win to Galt with a 30-22 score. The College boys were playing better basketball than they had been in the other games, holding the visiting team down to 14 points in the first half and getting 11 themselves. That the College team could hold their own against a team of their size was shown in this game. Had their shots at the basket been more accurate they would have defeated Galt easily. In the second half the play was still even, Galt gaining 16 points and Waterloo College 11.

Brantford line-up: Forwards, Cote, Champion, Calder; center, Munro; guards, Leishman, Harrison, Rundle, Conway.

Woodstock: Forwards, Stevenson, McDougal, Rankin, Bennet; center, Crawford; guards, Coles, Start, Hall.

Galt: Forwards, Harrison, Ferguson, Heggie; center, Norman; guards, Wilson, Sahagian, Mills, Gall.

Waterloo: Forwards, H. Scherbarth, M. Neeb, O. Reble, J. Neff; center, R. Ruch; guards, W. Jones, G. R. Caeselman, S. Alberti.

The Waterloo line-up was the same for the three games with the exception of J. Neff who was unable to play the last two games.

Dr. Mary Markley, secretary of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church, with office located in Washington, D.C., U.S.A., was entertained at the home of Rev. Clausen, president of the College, and Mrs. Clausen by the co-ed students of Waterloo College on the afternoon of January 8th. Miss R. Bohlender and Miss W. Obenhack assisted Mrs. Clausen in serving tea.

In her capacity as a secretary of the Board of Education, Miss Markley spends her time visiting the students in Lutheran Colleges and schools.

Miss Markley was the guest of Rev. F. Clausen and Mrs. Clausen while in Waterloo.

All the co-eds realize that it is better policy to work than play during exams.

Basketball for the co-eds was postponed during the examinations due to a sudden and unusual desire for intensive study.

Diary Reveals Reason For Sudden Appearance Of Curled Frosh Hair

Subtle Scheme to win Girl's Affections Disclosed.

Puzzled as to the cause underlying the sudden appearance of a luxuriant curl in the hair of a freshman whose locks had formerly been innocent of the slightest suspicion of a wave, a "Cord" reporter, following the best modern journalistic practices, filched from the room of the student the page of his diary explaining the question.

The words of the diary are reproduced here:

"Well, diary, old kid, I haven't touched you for several days now, so I'll have to do some catching up. There may be dire results if I don't because I have a lot to tell you.

"You see, it was this way. One evening, when I took the little girl to the movies, she went absolutely wild over John Barrymore. I couldn't see how she saw anything more in him than in me. I have the same type of nose, the same mobile mouth, the same strong chin. In fact, we're both good looking. What, then, I wondered, could be the explanation?"

"And then the solution struck me. His hair was curly; and mine was not.

This Week's Anecdote

Cosmo Hamilton, at one time in his varied career, was Parliamentary correspondent for a London newspaper. Among his many talents is the "pernicious habit of drawing caricatures." One afternoon in the Press Gallery of the House of Commons he had just finished the leonine head of Gladstone upon the body of a hungry-looking cat when the Grand Old Man happened along and picked up the drawing.

Hamilton did not have to wait long for a verdict.

"Very feeble," remarked Gladstone as he gave it back. "Whereupon," says Hamilton in his reminiscences, "I knew how the unfortunate Admiral Maxee must have felt when Queen Victoria, having commanded that he should give his well-known imitation of her august self, watched him put a handkerchief on his head, sink his chin, and blow out his cheeks, then said in her iciest tone:

"We are not amused", and left him worse than dead."

Since he expects to come to Seattle for the Rotary Convention during the spring of 1932, the executive is planning to have him speak at the annual banquet of the Alumni in May.

Although an unfortunate circumstance made a message from the former dean impossible for this issue, a hint of his unfailing interest in the Association may be gathered from this extract from a letter of his: "You know, some of us 'originals' are charter members of the Alumni Association and by heck! ### DEWDROPS

Shed like tears of sorrow
In the gloom of night;
Sparkling on the morrow,
Crystal gems full bright,
Dewdrops gleam and vanish
As the fates of men,
Who this earth replenish,
Each for his brief span.

Ere young dawn forth-breaketh
Through the eastern sky,
Ere bright day awaketh
Through the fog to spy,
Lo, behold through shadows
Fair aurora mourn,
And the sleepy meadows
With her tears adorn.

Lo, how proud a Victor, driving fiery steeds—
Hailed as Benefactor—
On his course now speeds
Glorious, great Apollo
With his torch on high,
Bidding to some hollow
Each dark shade to fly.

Dewdrops are a token,
Now of deepest grief—
Of sad hearts and broken,
Weeping for relief;
Now of joyful faces
In contentment still—
Hearts whose secret places
Happiness doth fill.

FORMER DEAN

loo College, Dr. Potter, was also the originator of the scheme of the Alumni Association, as well as for many other organizations in the College.

Since he expects to come to Seattle for the Rotary Convention during the spring of 1932, the executive is planning to have him speak at the annual banquet of the Alumni in May.

Although an unfortunate circumstance made a message from the former dean impossible for this issue, a hint of his unfailing interest in the Association may be gathered from this extract from a letter of his: "You know, some of us 'originals' are charter members of the Alumni Association and by heck! I claim my rights as an 'Alumnus'." What formal message could say more than this?

Breathless Hunter: "Say, boy, did you see a fox run by here?"

Colored Boy: "Yes, suh, boss, Ah sure did."

Hunter: "How long ago?"

Colored Boy: "About a year or mo' ago."

—W—

O that men's ears should be
To counsel deaf, but not to flattery.

One fire burns out another's burning,
One pain is lessened by another's anguish;
Turn giddy, and be help by backward turning;
One desperate grief cures with another's languish:
Take thou some new infection to thine eye,
And the rank poison of the old will die.

—W—

Shall I wasting in despair
Die because a woman's fair?
Or make pale my cheeks with care
'Cause another's rosy are?
Be she fairer than the day,
Or the flow'ry meads in May.
If she be not fair to me,
What care I how fair she be?
