TOP SLICED OFF FOUR CORD STAFFERS HURT

Four members of the Cord Weekly staff were injured last week in a car accident on Highway 401, five miles east of Highway 24, while returning from a press conference in Toronto.

The Editor, Michael Morris, suffered two broken bones in his right arm as well as face cuts. The News Editor, Ken Dick, received facial lacerations and is in satisfactory condition at St. Mary's Hospital. The Graphic Editor, Graham Inson, was treated for minor injuries and released.

David Castle, 23, of Oakville, is in serious condition at South Waterloo Memorial Hospital. Dave, a reporter with the Cord, was the driver of the car. He suffered a crushed chest and two punctured lungs.

As a result of the accident, the Cord Weekly has been forced to go to four pages for this issue. We expect to be back to full size next week.

MUSA LINCKE SNOW QUEEN '64

Musa Lincke, a 19-year-old freshette from the University of British Columbia, was crowned Miss Canadian University Snow Queen of 1964, Friday night, at the Winter Carnival Snow Queen Pageant.

Maxine Dawe, last year's Queen, was present to take part in the crowning. She travelled here from her present studies at Chamherlyn University in Boston.

Runners-up in the contest were, first, Elizabeth Joan Clarkin from McGill University and, second, Avril Gozna from Acadia University.

Penny Pidgeon from the University of Western Ontario was voted Miss Congeniality by the other Queens in the pageant. This aspect of the ceremonies was new this year.

The girls first went through a modeling procedure which was set up by Pauline Thompson, and then eight finalists were chosen.

These included the representatives of Acadia, Alberta, Manitoba, McGill, New Brunswick, British Columbia, Windsor, and Ryerson Institute.

Each Queen then repeated the modelling and was asked a question by the master of ceremonies, Brian Baker. After a brief intermission the judges brought in their decision.

Entertainment featured on the program included songs by Ian Van Hamel and Brian Russell, as well as an interlude of diversified organ music by Ted Duff.

The main attraction for the evening, beside the 15 beauties, was Les Barker, a talented cartoonist-comedian from the U.S. night circuit. His pictures and comments on several eminent staff members and students provided a highlight of the night.

A compliment should be given to the Carnival Committee for the professional way in which they presented the show.

METCALFE AND MARDI GRAS

by L. DAUB

One of the largest crowds the Theatre-Auditorium has ever seen swung to the big sounds of the Ron Metcalfe band, setting the scene for the grand finale to the Ice-Carnival weekend last Saturday night. The dance floor was transformed into a swimming riot of colour and costumes; the air into the sounds of students enjoying themselves.

Murray Williamson and the fire bell provided intermission entertainment. Following this the winners of the parade-float and ice sculpture contests were announced.

Later, Ron Metcalfe, who has in his career seen many a costume ball, and the band's vocalist, Larry Martin, picked Betty Bond and Dick Denning as wearers of the best costumes.

They wore "devil" costumes, described by Mr. Metcalfe as "the coolest, from head to toe." Both judges remarked on the difficulty of making a choice from among the many hundreds of excellent costumes.

The band swung on until shortly past midnight, bringing to a close another successful Ice-Carnival Weekend.

PARADE

'Smoking as the cause of lung cancer' was the theme of the winning float in the 1964 Carnival Parade. It was built by West Hall.

Second prize was captured by the Junior Class with their corn still.

Seven floats and two individual entries participated in the parade.

The Scot Fusiliers, St. John's Girls College Trumpet Band, and the Chatham Police Boy's Trumpet Band provided marching music. The Snow Queens, the WUC Cheerleaders, clowns and two mares stretched the parade to a length of ½ mile.

The Snow Queens stole the lime-light. These girls showed a great deal of spirit as they were always ready to wave and smile despite the cold, damp weather.

The parade Saturday morning got under way only half an hour late. Preparations were hampered not only by weather but also by the fact that students were in no condition to work throughout the night on floats. Credit should be given to those people who did get up early enough to make some preparations before the parade began.

ICE SCULPTURES

In the snow sculpture department, Willison Hall took the honours with "The Spirit of Willison". Second prize was awarded to the Geography Club's "The Royal Flush", while the hippopotamus by the Tamiae Society was placed third.

Again the weather hampered builders and some of the creations had begun to melt down by Saturday. However, many cars were observed passing through the campus on Sunday, obviously interested in WUC art.

HAMILTON (CUP)—Dr. H. G. Thode, McMaster University president, ruled last Wednesday (Jan. 22) that Bitter Ash could not be shown on campus at the end of the month because it had not been approved by the Ontario Censor Board.

Tuesday, Toronto minister Reverend H. A. M. Whyte wrote letters of protest to Dr. Thode and Hamilton Mayor Victor Copps.

The film as produced by Larry Kent a student who was in Toronto last week to publicize the film. (Executives of the Student Christian Movement, U of T, saw the film Tuesday and plan to show it publicly in Feb.)

Dr. Bernard Banaschewski, film society faculty advisor, said that the program of the society should not be made subject to approval of private citizens.

Rev. Whyte said: "I'm a minister of the Gospel who has had considerable experience in helping people recover themselves from seeing the portrayal of acts which are not clean . . . A young Christian man should avoid contact with the vulgar and licentious. Every Christian minister when he marries a man and woman into a state of secret holy wedlock and any portrayal of the sex act outside of holy wedlock is forbidden by the Bible."

Rev. Whyte's son, Stephen, a McMaster student said: "I admire the stand of my father, but wouldn't have the guts to do it myself. I think people, especially students, who go to see a film like that go for sexual excitement with only one thought in mind. (He was referring to the film's depiction of the sex act which has been widely criticized as obscene.) I feel the people involved ought to be ashamed. How would you like someone to take a picture of you sitting on the toilet? A film can have nothing but a detrimental effect on the students. This could pervert them for the rest of their lives."

The Silhouette, McMaster student paper, in an editorial said: "The president's cancellation was prompted by a simple and sensible consideration of the existant law in this province. Any film of 16mm or more shown in Ontario is subject to the approval of the Ontario Board of Censors.

"Though very few films are viewed by the Board attention can be brought to trouble makers to a showing and prosecution for pornography can follow. The Bitter Ash is in the eyes of many pornographic and the administration is therefore wise in avoiding unpleasant and wasteful involvement over this film until some ruling has been heard from the Censors."

The film runs for 87 minutes and has been seen by students at UBC, University of Saskatchewan and McGill University. Carleton University will show it this week and U of T the following week.

Mr. Kent has been unable to find a Toronto theatre willing to show his picture even after suggested editing of the film had been made.
