Feb. 24th.—The team of Arnie Goldstein, Bob Bailey, and Bill Braby won the O.T.C.C. table-tennis tournament.

Feb. 25th.—The Hawks basketball team lost to the University J.V.'s in the semi-finals. Merv Bolton, one of our Hawks, was made the all-star centre for the all-tournament team.

Feb. 14th.—Brian Osborne represented the College at the O.I.A.A. Swimming meet at O.A.C. He took a first in the 100 yard butterfly and a third in the 100 yard free style, the only two events he entered.

Feb. 16th-17th.—The College played host to the O.I.A.A. Curling Bonspiel at the Granite Club. In the finals we found ourselves pitted against the Plumbers and we lost in a close match.

Feb. 23rd.—The O.I.A.A. Volleyball tournament was held at Seagram's Gym. The Hawks came fourth. This same team will be competing this Saturday at Seagram's Gym in the O.T.C.C. tournament.

Feb. 15th.—The Hawks Hockey team lost their last game of the season two weeks ago Thursday, 1-6 to R.I.T. The College played well in the first two periods but fell apart in the last twenty minutes when neither team was at full strength for more than three minutes. Thirty-six minutes in penalties were received. Our goals were scored by: Sobieraj, Heinbocker, Heacock, Copeland, Charles and Dick, with Jim Randle getting three assists. The shots on goal were: by W.U.C., 31 and by R.I.T., 20.

Student Union Dilemma

At sometime during conference week, the above sign was erected atop the new student union building. It reads "Waterloo Lutheran University Student Union Bldg."

This development, particularly at the time when the students and administration are at odds in regard to student affairs, poses some interesting questions.

This edifice is being built solely by money raised from the students of Waterloo University College and also from money collected from students of the now extinct Waterloo College. Yet this building now bears a sign reading WLU. Who authorized the erection sign and on whose orders? We are of the opinion that a building built by and for the students of WUC should bear the name these students desire, and yet we can't remember college wide referendum being taken, or even a Student's Council decision, to justify the erection of any sign.

Surely no one can logically claim the reason for the sign and the words it bears to avoid confusion in the minds of the public.

Lastly we find it rather amusing that WLU, a corporate institution which has no students possesses a student building while WUC with 850 and the seminary with 20 plus students do not have buildings.

Believe it or not, this University sponsored an activity two weekends ago as students measure time. There were students involved in this activity who had something to say to people in general but primarily to their fellow students. But their fellow students had so very many vital things to attend to that they found it necessary to pass up this message . . . regretfully, of course. Perhaps they missed much, certainly not

by David Freeman

The Hawks concluded their long 4 month season by taking 3 of their last four games. In their final two league games the Hawks defeated Hamilton Teachers' College 76-65 and H.I.T. at home 93-55. On the weekend the Hawks entered the O.T.C.C. tournament at Seagram's Gym and were eliminated in the semi-finals by University of Waterloo Pioneers 71-60 after winning by default over H.I.T. In the final St. Jerome's defeated the Pioneers to win the championship.

Against the Teachers' College the Hawks led all the way and the game was never in doubt. The Hawks were led by Bolton with 18, Heinbuch 17, Woodburn 14, Cuff 12, and Fedor with 10. In their final league game the Hawks reached their high total for the season of 93 points.

find for it would seem to me that a university which is supposedly as close-knit as ours is or should be, would be more aware of the potential of its members.

I trust and hope that there will be many and varied comments on this venture both within this publication and outside of it. I may assure you that any reactions will be most welcome and anyone who knows either me or the essence of this show will know that all such reactions have been almost gleefully anticipated. I would still stand to my opinion that this institution has needs which would warrant more than one type of production a year even though I would appear to stand relatively alone in this view. It would seem that once again the students of WUC have reached a decision about another pressing matter. I only hope that they realize what it is and that they have made it.

W.U.C.?, W.L.S.?, W.L.U.?, - Which are We?

The following is a direct statement from the Student Board of Publications of Waterloo University College. In the constitution passed by the members of the executive of the Board of Publications it is stated: "All publications issuing from this body shall be acknowledged as published by Waterloo University College Board of Publications. The object of the Board of Publications is to provide the students of W.U.C. with the aforesaid publications. Whereas the Board of Publications functions by means of funds contributed to it by the student body of W.U.C. through the W.U.C. Student Council. Whereas the W.U.C. Student Council is the recognized will of the majority of the above student body. Therefore the Board of Publications recognizes that its only responsibility is to the W.U.C. Student Council." The above articles state clearly that the Board of Publications exists solely of, by, and for the students of W.U.C.

The inclusion of faculty and students of the seminary and their affairs in any of the publications does not connote any influence on the Board of Publications since W.L.U. contributes neither effort nor funds other than that which is obtained from subscriptions which are available also to part-time students of W.U.C. In this same light the Board of Publications does not issue publications for the edification or acknowledgement of the general public. Rather it is solely an internal function of W.U.C. The P&G show, Kampus Kapers and the International Business Management Course are similar internal activities of W.U.C. and as such are allowed the sole identification of W.U.C.

If the Administration desires to use the publications of the Board for the purpose of public relations, they are quite within their liberty to do so. They may rubber-stamp them at will. Provided that they buy subscriptions to that publication they may further identify it as provided by W.U.C. Student Board of Publications of W.L.U. However, it is neither the obligation nor the desire of the Board of Publications to further identify in this manner each copy of publication for the benefit of the public.

Apparently Student Council is not aware of the internal nature of the Board of Publications the exact position in which they, themselves, stand. Until Council does recognize their position or until this position changes, the Board of Publications shall continue to function in the above-mentioned nature, namely for the sole benefit of the student body of W.U.C.

At 10 a.m. Friday, Feb. 16 Student Council held an emergency meeting. The point in question was whether or not the corporate title of Waterloo Lutheran University would appear on the inside cover of the 1961-62 Keystone.

On Nov. 31, 1961, Student Council had received a memorandum from the Administration that "the Executive (of the Board of Governors) will view the use of the names W.U.C. and W.L.S. IN ASSOCIATION WITH the name Waterloo Lutheran University to be an evidence of loyalty to this institution, and the President of the University is hereby instructed to convey this statement to the Administration staff, faculty and students for their guidance."

On Thursday, Feb. 15, 1962 the editors of the 61-62 Keystone were called to the office of Dr. Villaume. They were there told by the President's assistant that the phrase "of Waterloo Lutheran University" must appear on the inside cover following the normal identification "Student Board of Publications of Waterloo University College." The editors were then told that without further consultations, they were to phone or wire their printers to change the Keystone to the above stipulations.

The preceding action was instead referred to the normal channel of communications, first being brought to the attention of the Chairman of the Board of Publications and thence to the President of the Student Council.

Council met in the Board Room at 10 a.m. Friday morning for the purpose of discussing the matter. The meeting adjourned at 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. after first having requested Dr. Villaume's presence at the afternoon meeting.

Council reconvened at 3 p.m. whereupon Dr. Villaume stated the reason for his action. He had been accused of deliberate confusion in the mind of the public, of this institution with another of a similar name. Since the yearbooks were sent by the Administration to the general public, high schools in particular, he was desirous of avoiding confusion with other universities. To avoid this confusion in the mind of the public he stated that the identifying phrase of W.L.U. must appear on the inside cover of the yearbook. Dr. Villaume then left

To the Editor:

The minutes of the last meeting of Council on Feb. 16th. have caused me great concern as to the mental welfare of several of its members.

First of all let me quote from an article that appeared in the Cord on the same date as the meeting. "Too often we have sat quietly by, letting the compromises build shaky structures until such time that we have lost all sense of value and then wondered why the fault did not pass away."

I refer now to the fact that on an issue as vital as to warrant an emergency meeting, out of 9 possible votes, there were 4 abstentions.

For these four members who are supposed to be able to carry out their offices as representatives of student opinion, I can offer only three possible excuses:

Either they were intimidated into peaceful submission or they did not have the courage of their convictions or they had no convictions.

Is this how my Council representative is acting for me?

Congratulations on your editorial of the past issue. It shows the interest and concern of your paper with administration and faculty problems which are ultimately the direct concern of the student of integrity. Exemptive of fine newspaper work it dispels rumours, establishes fact and states the problems of interest to the student. Most important of all, however, it establishes a common ground on which faculty, students and administration can meet and present their respective cases. Let us hope they take advantage of it to show their interest in common concerns.

RON ERB

Chairman of the Board of Publications.

To the Editor:

Although we feel that the garbage which spewed forth from the pen of Mr. Gordon McPherson in the last issue of the Cord is undeserving of any answer, we still feel compelled to say to Mr. McPherson . . . Thanks for listening.

(signed) ON CAMPUS

To the Editor:

In one sense, the name Waterloo Lutheran University is absurd as applied to our institution. Imagine a Lutheran University that does not have a beer garden. The student body ought to rise in indignation and demand that our university follow its Lutheran heritage. The Torque Room ought to be licensed to sell beer. Instead, our university lays down regulations against drinking on its premises or at student functions. The students form drinking committees not so as to procure drinks but so as to prevent other students from drinking.

This puritanical position is far removed from the spirit of true Lutheranism. The blessed Martin Luther once affirmed that the Gospel would do its work while he drank his small glass of Wittenberg beer. Let us therefore follow the example of our leader and install beer kegs in the Torque Room. Abstinence is a Moslem, not a Christian virtue.

JOHN HORMAN

Dear Mr. Editor:

Those responsible for Kampus Kapers are to be congratulated for a show which was quite entertaining and well done. Obviously a lot of work and talent was expended to produce such results. However, this is the second production of the same type as the earlier P&G show which provided light, amusing entertainment. It is not that we wish to disparage light entertainment, but talent used in these shows is also capable of more serious dramatic productions, if a second one is to be included in the school year. Wouldn't this be more appropriate to the purpose of university life, which is to explore and deepen understanding of various forms of culture?

With our new auditorium there will be ample opportunity to stage a good review. But instead of repeating the same type of entertainment, it is to be hoped that we will explore the field of serious drama as well. Surely this will be of more service to students in a liberal arts course.

Sincerely,
 Patricia Curry,

The following is a direct copy from the minutes of the following Council discussion: "John SaFrance moved that we inform the Board of Governors of this university that we have interpreted their former instructions regarding the name of the school to be used on publications that all internal publications can go under the name of Waterloo University College only and that any publications circulating to the public should be in the name of Waterloo University College of Waterloo Lutheran University. Since we feel that the Keystone is for W.U.C. students only, we have instructed the editors to use only the name Waterloo University College, and if there is any confusion on our part in doing so, we would like the matter clarified. Gary Brown seconded it. The motion was defeated with 2 in favor, 3 opposed and 4 abstentions.

John Vermeulen moved that we publish the Keystone in the name of Waterloo University College of Waterloo Lutheran University. Danny Davids seconded it. Motion defeated with one abstention.

Bill Leggett moved that we write the Board of Governors and tell them that we feel the Keystone should bear the name W.U.C. only but since Dr. Villame is their representative and has interpreted this publication as an external one, we will respect his opinion and publish it under W.U.C. of W.L.U.; but in future decisions of this nature, we request that they inform us of the clarification of this point and their position on it. Jim Kent seconded it. Motion carried with Gary Brown and John SaFrance opposed and John Erb abstaining. Council President Tom Freure asked to go on record as being opposed to this motion.

The meeting was adjourned.

Four new faculty members have been called to teach in the College next year. All will possess the Ph.D. degree. The first to return a signed contract is Dr. Neale H. Tayler, presently chairman of Graduate Studies in Modern Languages at the University College, University of Toronto. He will be Associate Professor of Romance Languages and chairman of the Department.

Dr. Tayler received his Ph.D. from the University of Toronto and also studied at Laval University, Quebec, and the National University of Mexico. He lived in France and Spain for a year and a half. After teaching one year at the University of Western Ontario, Dr. Tayler went to the University of Toronto where he has taught for 23 years. He is also a member of the Board of Education of North York. Tayler is 49 years of age, married, has two children, and is a member of the Anglican communion.

Among his publications are: Letras Ibero Americanas, La vida española, and Las fuentes del teatro de Tamayo y Baus, the last being a book published in Spain.

W.U.C. ACAPELLA CHOIR

WUC ACapella Choir sang before total audiences of one thousand at three performances last week. On Friday afternoon they travelled by chartered bus to Brantford, where they sang for students at the Paul Johnson Memorial Collegiate Institute. Prof. Donald Morgantau, who is also a first tenor in the Choir, spoke about WUC to the assembly. His witty and informative talk was well received.

The Rev. Robert Binham, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, where the Choir gave an evening concert, arranged for a display of the Art Gallery in Glenora Gardens and a trip through the Alexander Graham Bell home prior to a supper at the church.

On Sunday afternoon, they boarded a bus again, this time bound for Oakville, Grace Lutheran Church, where the Rev. Roy Grosz, pastor, gave the Choir Concert provided the conductor to a "kick-off" dinner for the Centennial Advance Appeal in the Oakville Church. Mr. Donald A. Editorial Student Affairs et al.

During the past few weeks, we have witnessed some new developments in connection with control over student affairs. The most significant move was the order originating from the president's office, namely that Waterloo Lutheran University appear on the title page of the yearbook.

The issues at stake here are not one of name usage, as everyone realizes the administration have every legal right to use W.L.U., but rather methods of effecting change and delineation of powers.

The manner in which the student officials were informed is related elsewhere in this paper and this is not the first time the administration has failed to use the proper channels. (They have been informed more than once as to what these channels are). The point in contention should have been made as a request to the Board of Publications which exists to deal with all matters regarding student publications. As far as the degree of control the students possess over their own affairs, it is a debatable point as no powers have really been set down in black and white but, up to this time, a precedent has been set which gave Students' Council virtually complete control over all student affairs. The administration and faculty served only in advisory capacities.

Business Management are functions of our college, so should be the publication of our yearbook.

On the basis of these criteria, I believed that W.U.C. alone should be used on our title page but since it was defeated and as a member of students' council, and in view of the convictions of the majority vote, I can only say that I now give them my whole hearted support.

Editors' Note: Every council member present at the emergency meeting was approached and asked to submit a statement to the Cord but only the four above saw fit to make any comment for publication.

We are of the opinion that to allow the students to have virtually complete control over their own affairs is in the best interests of all concerned. Surely no student in any official post would do anything to harm this institution and we feel that the administration must have more important things to do than to maintain a "supervision" over student activities. After all, most students are 21 or over and legally responsible for their every action. If the government and nation are prepared to trust us and accept us as mature, rational and realistic citizens we feel the powers that be should also.

We too feel the students should quit griping about the more "liberal" use of W.L.U. This is our corporate name and, although we are the only university in Canada which has a denomination title, its use in most instances is only proper. (exceptions being the Student Union Building and other internal matters such as student publications e.g. Keystone).

In our opinion the next five or ten years will be critical ones for this institution but with a strong administrator such as Dr. Villaume is, we shall see them through. However all factions in the school must show more consideration and understanding for each other's point of view and, if so, we are confident the present internal dissension will disappear.

It is time for the faculty, students and administration to unite together and pull in the same direction not pursue different paths.

MEDITATION

Matt. 13:1-17 The Sower
by Alex Taylor

There are many who believe that the parable of the sower reflects the experience of Jesus as a preacher, and that He delivered especially to His disciples so that they might be prepared, and know what to expect, as missionaries of the Gospel.

Christ and His followers have in the Gospel that which is able to produce surprising and unexpected results in character. Jeremiah compares the Word of God to wheat (Jer. 23:28). "The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that has my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat?" What is the chaff to the wheat? It is the waste product; that which is to be discarded for lack of nutrition. So, here, Jesus regards the truths of the Gospel as necessary elements for the sustaining and building up of moral life and character. In order to live and have the good life the Gospel is an essential—not an extra: a necessity—not a luxury.

Just as in the seed, small as it is, there are locked up vital energies and living forces, which given a receptive soil produce striking transformations, so too, the words of Jesus, His ideas and thoughts, are 'living words,' holding dynamic energy, capable, when used by men, of producing startling results that cannot be explained except through the power of God.

The followers of Jesus must sow the seed wherever they go. It is impossible for them to judge the nature of the soil; but for the best results there must be complete co-operation between the seed and the soil. Our hearts and minds must appropriate the living word if there is to be a fruitfulness.

Among all hearers of the Gospel are those who are impossible to change or convert. On the other hand, Christ assures us, as He did His early disciples, that we will meet with receptive souls in whom the truth of the Gospel will be appropriated, and will consequently result in remarkability.

We must ever remember that the hope for the future rests, not in the ability of man to create wise sayings or to coin fancy phrases, but in the power of God whose Will be done.

Prayer: Our Father, we pray in Christ's name, that thou wilt make us receptive to thy word, and make us faithful sowers of thy seed. Amen.

Geography Club Hears Talk On Arctic

On Thursday evening Feb. 22, the campus Geography Club was privileged in having Dr. Ross MacKay from the Geography Dept. of the Univ. of British Columbia as guest speaker. Dr. MacKay presented a very educational, well illustrated talk on the "Landscapes of the Western Canadian Arctic. The speaker's slides strikingly presented the many and surprisingly varied geomorphological features of this Canadian region. Among the most interesting physical features were the pingos, the tundra polygons and the Grand Canyon-type river gorges of this district. The final series of slides ably depicted the great diversity of stunted plant growth that makes up the Arctic vegetative cover even at such northern locations as Devon Island.

The next regular meeting of the Geography Club will feature the final film in the current series and is entitled "Challenge To Mankind." The showing will be on March 7th at 8:30 P.M. in Room 208. In the film, five authorities of world prominence will express their views on the threat to mankind of overpopulation and suggest possible solutions to this important problem.

The Alumni Office was delighted to learn that the people of Finland have restated their faith in the policies of Urho Kekkonen and re-elected him President with a clear mandate this month.

President Kekkonen accepted an honorary degree from our institution last October.

One of our busiest honorary alumni is Hugh MacLennan of the Department of English at McGill University. He was guest lecturer at a seminar held at Oberlin College and has been making T.V. appearances several times this week. He will address the Canadian Club in Toronto on March 26th. Between university lectures and guest appearances, Dr. MacLennan keeps busy at his latest novel.

Hawks

The Hawks were led in this game by Woodburn with 20, Bolton 16, Fedor 14, Heinbuch 13, and Ochiera 10.

On the Tournament the Pioneers stormed from behind to beat a tired and undermanned squad of Hawks 71-60. For this game the Hawks were forced to go with 8 players two of which fouled out early in the second half. Throughout the season the only team the Hawks were unable to beat were the Pioneers. Leading the scoring parade in this game was Merv Bolton with 20, Gary Cuff had 19, Heinbuch had 8, and Dart added 7. Don Demko led the Pioneers with 22 followed by Dean Given with 19.

The Hawks finished the season in third place with an 8-4 record. Their overall record including exhibition games was 10-9. The Hawks were well coached by Jim Swartz and they should have a fine nucleus for a championship squad next year. With the new gymnasium the Hawks should be able to get the support they deserve. This was a fine basketball team which just missed winning another championship for W.U.C. The squad consisted of Court Heinbuch, Bob Woodburn, Merv Bolton, Bill Fedor, Gary Cuff, Ed Ochiera, Doug Dart, Don Burton, Uldis Steinbachs, Larry Hansen, Gary Randall, and manager David Freeman.
