FOUR IN P.M. RACE

NDP Platform

The four major policy planks of the Campus New Democrat's program for the coming Model Parliament are Welfare, Education, Foreign Policy and Economic policy. Campus leader Pout Macdonald stated emphatically that Medical Care is a right and not a privilege, therefore a New Democratic Government will institute a complete Medicare Plan.

Old Age Pensions will be increased $100 a month, on a need basis when plans in places of employment will become portable.

Since the "Thalidomide" tragedy emphasized the need for greater control of the Drug Industry, a New Democratic Government will set up an adequately staffed Drug Control Board to test all drugs entering the market.

In Education, the New Democrats will enact a University Student Assistance Act paying tuition costs for students maintaining a "B" average. Students with a passing average will be eligible for long term, no interest loans.

A New Democratic Government will provide a comprehensive re-training program—including day courses during the summer to use High School facilities readily available.

Federal and Provincial governments will study a program of combining Separate and Public school taxes, with a fair system of apportioning the same.

All Universities regardless of their affiliations will be eligible for Provincial and Federal grants.

New Democratic Foreign Policy based upon increased international co-operation in many fields and includes: more aid to the undeveloped countries—including formation of a Canadian Peace Corps, continuing to participate in NORAD and NATO, joining the Organization of American States, and greater co-operation with the United Nations.

Economic policy will include a complete investigation of the corporate and income tax structure of Canada, by a board composed of Civil Servants, prominent businessmen and Professors of Economics. Recommendations will be acted upon by a New Democratic Government.

A National Economic Planning Board will be set up including both government and businessmen to coordinate economic planning and further economic development.

The platform will also include a national flag and anthem for Canada.

History Meet

The first regular meeting of the WUC History Club was held recently in the Games Room of the Student Union Building. The club president, Mick Haston, presented a constitution which had been drawn up by the club executive. The constitution was discussed and then ratified. The rest of the meeting was primarily devoted to planning future club events.

It was decided that meetings in 1963 will be held on the second Tuesday of every month.

Liberal Platform

These are the policies of the Liberal Platform for the W.U.C. Model Parliament.

1. External Affairs: Join the Organization of American States, full support to the United States in the Caribbean and Cuba.
2. Defense: No nuclear weapons for Canadian forces.
3. Trade: Application for membership in co-operation with U.S.A. in an Atlantic Trading Community.
4. Unemployment: Lower corporation taxes and accelerate depreciation allowances for capital goods to encourage expansion of industry.
5. Economic Measures: Amalgamation of armed forces.
6. Education: Establish a scholarship and bursary fund for university students.
7. Justice: Revise the penal system of Canada.
8. Elections: Reduce the voting age to eighteen in general elections.

Socred Platform

The Platform of the Social Credit Party for the Model Parliament is as follows:

1. Legislation to encourage free enterprise, and to restrict monopoly—either private or state.
2. Pay-as-you-go government and the achievement of a balance between consumption and production.
3. The establishment of a programme to increase aid to underdeveloped nations.
4. Franchise to all over 18; senate reform and the establishment of a Ministry of National Security.
5. A foreign policy which would enable Canada to act as a force for peace and to fulfill her responsibility as a Western ally in the struggle against Communist expansion.
6. Canada's membership in the Organization of American States.
7. Full sovereignty over the constitution; and the adoption of a flag and emblem.

PC Platform

The Progressive Conservative platform for the coming Model Parliament is as follows:

1. Abolition of Capital Punishment
2. Government Drug Testing Agency
3. Bursary Programme
4. Repatriate the Canadian Constitution
5. Revamp the Senate
6. Increased Foreign Aid
7. Maritime Expansion Programme
8. Encourage Expansion of Tourist Industry by Creating Loans
9. Training of Unskilled Workers
10. Cooperation with Provinces to Create a Portable Pension Scheme

Poll Shows Liberal Victory

A Poll, recently conducted by the Cord, in which one out of every five students were asked which way they intended to vote, shows the following results for the Model Parliament elections today:

Liberal	32%
Conservative	28%
New Democratic Party	18%
Social Credit	2%
Undecided	20%

opposing parties.

Only economic planning, by taking advantage of population and geography, can place Canadian industries at a par with those of U.S.A. and E.C.M. he believes. He feels that our volume of trade with the US must be increased by lowering tariffs.

He quoted part of President Kennedy's inaugural address that it was "not a question of what the country can do for the individual, but what the individual can do for the country." He also encouraged all those present to take a stab at politics.

Addison Visits WUC

John Addison, Liberal MP from York North recently visited W.U.C. He spoke on the need for future planning of our economy and closer relations with the U.S.A.

Mr. Addison said that we, as citizens of Canada, will soon have to make vital decisions concerning our future. He noted what he felt are the major inadequacies of the

Folk Concert Will Be A First For WUC

On Saturday, November 10th, Kitchener's first folk concert will be held at Waterloo University College's new auditorium. The concerts are being produced by a present and a past student of Waterloo College. The collegian is Roger Davidson, an arts student, and the ex-student is Arnold Torneck, chairman of this year's Mariposa Folk Festival's successful children's concert.

The first concert, Saturday afternoon at 1:30, will be a children's concert featuring Peter Kastner, a folk artist who has a great deal of experience in children's programs on the concert stage, radio and television.

The evening concert features The Wayfarers, a folk group who had their beginnings at Waterloo College; David Wiffen, reputed to be Canada's greatest blues singer and Andy Bregg, Canada's greatest banjo virtuoso. The evening concert is entitled "An Evening of Folk Songs."

Tickets for the children's concert are 75c; the evening concert $1.50. Tickets are available at Charcoal Steak House, Ross Klopp Men's Wear, Chicken Nest Restaurant, Waterloo University College Book Store and the Ontario Agricultural College and Ontario Veterinary College in Guelph.

Toronto Rabbi-Emeritus To Speak At Assembly

Dr. Abraham L. Feinberg, nationally-known religious figure and Rabbi-Emeritus of Holy Blossom Temple, Toronto, will be the speaker for the Religious Assembly, Tuesday, November 13, 9:50 a.m., in the Auditorium. The subject he has selected for his presentation and the discussion which will follow is "The Warfare State—and You!"

As Chairman of the Toronto Committee for Survival, Rabbi Feinberg is nationally known for his vigorous leadership and courageous defense of the cause of peace. He is deeply involved in the Canadian Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament. Also he is Vice-President of the Toronto Association for Civil Liberties, and has been in the forefront of efforts aimed at securing equality of treatment for all racial and religious groups, especially the Chinese, Japanese and Negro residents of Canada. He is regarded throughout Canada as a leading champion of progressive ideas on questions that deeply concern the Canadian people.

Dr. Feinberg was born in Bellaire, Ohio, a mining town on the Ohio River. He graduated from the University of Cincinnati with post-graduate work at the University of Chicago and Columbia University, and was ordained as Rabbi at Hebrew Union College. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, and also studied music at the American Conservatory in Fontainebleau, France.

He served as Rabbi in Niagara Falls (N.Y.), Wheeling (W.Va.), New York City and Denver (Colorado) before being called to Holy Blossom Temple, in Toronto, eighteen years ago. Holy Blossom Temple is the most prominent Jewish pulpit in Canada, and the oldest Canadian Jewish congregation west of Montreal. In September, 1961, he retired from the active Rabbinate to devote himself to writing, lecturing and public service, especially for disarmament and peace.

The Rabbi was named in a poll by "Saturday Night" magazine as one of Canada's seven greatest preachers.

He is the first Rabbi to receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the University of Toronto; he is also a Doctor of Divinity.

He contributes a column regularly to the "Globe and Mail" and has written articles on many subjects for many magazines, including "McLean's", "Saturday Night", and Anglo-Jewish publications. He also appears often on T.V. and Radio for CBC, and was a regular panelist on the program Q.E.D., Station CFTO-TV.

He was one of the founders of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, and served on the Board of Directors of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, and other organizations. He is also on the General Council Zionist Organization of Canada, and for some years acted as National Co-Chairman of the Joint Public Relations Committee of the Canadian Jewish Congress and B'nai B'rith.

Rabbi Feinberg returned recently from a mission of peace to London, Berlin and Moscow. Dr. Feinberg will be on Campus at 8 p.m. Monday and is happy to meet any interested in a general discussion for an informal get-together. Watch the bulletin boards for the place.

V O T I N G

Today, each and every student possesses the right to vote freely and by secret ballot. It is more than just a right, however. It is also responsibility.

Let us state some of the factors involved in voting:

1. Analyze each point on the four platforms.
2. Mentally test the practicability of each point on the platforms.
3. Know your candidate—his ability, his initiative, his honesty, and his knowledge of politics.
4. Do not cast your ballot until you firmly believe that you have made the right decision.
5. Do not let this election become a personality contest.

We should remember that by voting with a sense of responsibility in this election we are setting a precedent for our future life. A good turnout at this election would indicate that students are responsible.

VIEWPOINT

By Gary Slimmon

On modern literature, character projection has played and is playing an important role. With this in mind, we wonder what would happen if certain campus celebrities were placed in the shoes of off-campus dignitaries. We offer forthwith a few examples:

1. Dr. Villeneuve as Sir Winston Churchill proclaiming in his most eloquent Phil. 20 logic: "We shall win this war by defeating the enemy."
2. Prof. George Durst as John F. Kennedy denouncing the Russians as "Damnably nuisances."
3. Roger Seegmiller as Macbeth: "Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow . . ."
4. Dr. Dolbeer as Martin Luther: "Darn it all, I forgot the thumb-tacks."
5. Prof. Harry Keuper as astronaut Schirra: "No kidding, the earth is really planned and layed out lousy. Just too much water."
6. Dr. Gwatkin as John Diefenbaker: "My slogan has always been 'veritas omnia vincit'. And that's why I'm having a hard time. No one around here speaks French. Except that guy Caou . . ., Caou . . ., Réal; and most of the time my interpreter won't translate what he's saying to me."
7. Dean Morgenson as Charles Atlas: "Are you tired of being a 98-pound weakling? Lie down and let's talk it over."

8. Dean Schaus as Polonius: "What do you mean you want to go to school in Paris, Laertes?"

It has just been confirmed that Audrey of the Torque Room staff has definitely turned down the leading role of the forthcoming "John Wayne Story". She says she's much too busy locking and un-locking doors.

Did you notice the real live shrunken heads at Treasure Van? Don't you think that's going a bit too far to help out W.U.S.?!?

Isn't it ironic that Free Love ends up being the most expensive type?

The latest report from the United States' Defense Department says that the long-range ballistic missile will not be scrapped. Instead, it will be known as a short-range ballistic missile and will be stood on end and toppled over on the front line of enemy soldiers. It's a cheaper and less expensive operation than the present set-up.

We are not allowed to express any political preference in this column, and we think it would be underhanded and sneaky to do so. Therefore we shall merely urge all the NEW students to use their DEMOCRATIC right and vote for the PARTY of their choice.

THE URGE TO CREATE

By Shari Graham

How very often have you sat down to write . . . to spill your tumbling thoughts out across a page . . .

How often have these thoughts been hard and long in coming . . . you pull and primp your brain until it stings, and dash your thought down on paper but they follow the wrong paths and you are again frustrated and ill at ease because you have failed . . . failed to say to man a slight necessity . . . the thoughts of another being . . . living and breathing the good and the bad with others . . . other beings. The ideas that whirl your brain into a cone of dropping bee-juice stick and then . . . suddenly it comes . . . like a white knight . . . a flashing sword.

You have won . . . the urge is gone . . . a still victory . . . peace.

To the editor:

Last year this university was plagued by two bomb-scares. Although in both cases the alarm was a hoax, there is still the possibility that at some time there may occur a real emergency. Have any steps been taken to ensure the safety of the students in such a situation?

Fire regulations demand that the buildings be provided with a warning system of some kind. But how many students have any knowledge of safety procedure at this institution?

Industry, public and high schools have instituted regular fire drills to provide for the safety of workers and students. Not one move in this direction has been taken at WUC this year.

At the peak hours during the day, the Torque Room is capable of containing approximately 125 students. The amphitheatre during the day often holds upwards of 70 people; and other rooms are capable of seating almost this many.

With an enrollment of 1,100 (almost 145% of last year's total) the administration should begin planning immediately for the safety of WUC students.

BOB KAVANAGH

Meditation

Someone has said, "The best proof of God's existence is what follows when we deny it." In life we grow like the things we love and believe in. If we believe in nothing greater than ourselves, how perfectly natural it is that we become little people. If we see no purpose in anything, no creative hand or act behind this world in which we live, how understandable it is that we become cynical and scoffing. If our eyes are never opened to the wonder and glory and beauty of our surroundings, can we become other than negative personalities, "hollow men"? This is the tragedy of so many lives who doubt the existence of God. In so many people, one meets the scoffing and cynical mind, the vain and self-sufficient personality. This is disturbing to many people, yet the very effect on personality of the denial of God is the greatest proof of His existence. If we are to live meaningful lives, we must see purpose in all of life. If we are to be compassionate people, we must be people who have learned to love. If our lives are to be beautiful, we must see beauty and live in a world of beauty every day. God, our Father, is the completeness of all these virtues. "God is Love". To live in God is to be filled with light—a light that cannot be hidden—a light that all men must surely see.

JERRY SHANTZ

Prof's. Night Out

In conjunction with the various departments on campus, the Student Union Board of Governors will present a series of "Meet Your Professor Nights".

The aims of these meetings will be to acquaint students with the courses offered at W.U.C. and show how they lead to various career opportunities. It is hoped that the information gained at these meetings will prove valuable in aiding students to decide on their future careers.

These meetings will be open to students from the local colleges. The Psychology Department will begin the lecture series at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 13, in the former dining hall.

Voice Of The Students

To the Editor:

As you all realize, the Liberal Club has selected Robin Russell to be its leader in Model Parliament. It would have been very easy for us to follow the Conservative pattern of running a popularity and not a political contest. We could have chosen such people as Dave Robertson, Tony Liberta, Phil Schaus, Bernie Rubenstein or Ted Favot from our membership. We didn't. Robin was chosen because he was the best qualified person to run a Model Parliament as Prime Minister! His qualifications include: one year experience in Model Parliament as the party whip for the Liberals; Vice President of Ontario University Liberal Federation; two years active experience in the club.

The Club is very disappointed the Conservative party on campus for choosing someone by his popularity rather than qualifications.

Mr. Pout MacDonald, the candidate for the N.D.P. is a tremendous person and deserves support as a responsible candidate. The formation of a Social Credit party on campus is another wonderful asset to university political life. We need a view from all sides, and sincere congratulations is extended to the Creditors for the effort they are making.

In closing I would only like to say that if the response of the students is as great as last year, in our first Model Parliament, then it will again be a success. Please Vote!

. . . (498); Never again will we publicly disparage the campus Liberal Party (499); Never again will we publicly disparage the campus Liberal Party (500). Ouch!

Since the last issue of the Cord appeared on the stands we have become aware of several rather confusing situations which exist on campus.

Perhaps some of them have caused you to ponder also.

1. In last week's front page article publicizing the visit of Governor-General Vanier to this campus, did the writer have an accurate statement when he said: "President Villeneuve hopes that as many students as possible will show their loyalty to the Crown and their devotion to our British heritage by being present to welcome this honored soldier-diplomat"?

2. How many students here have a British heritage (we always thought that Lutheranism was founded in Germany)?
3. Does the same excellent grammarian really believe that "Despite . . . only one good leg, General Vanier is vigorous and alert"?
4. Is it true that Vicky has been nominated for Campus Queen . . . and, if so:
5. Has Horace yet purchased a ticket for the Soph formal?
6. Judging by the way Dr. Villeneuve's eyes lit up every time Mr. R. Thompson mentioned the ease with which universities would secure funds for expansion under a Social Credit government, would it be difficult to guess which way he would vote, were he eligible, in the next federal elections?

I BELIEVE

That for every one who procures a cup of coffee during Chapel hour, ten go thirsty.

That in the event of war our Bomarc missiles will protect us . . . from fallout.

In freedom of press for the Cord Weekly. Our President is wrong about . . . (censored and deleted).

What goes up must come down. I hope it doesn't come down on me.

That you should not smoke, drink or go out with wild women, but it's all right to lie a bit.

In the philosophy of eat, drink and make Mary, for tomorrow is another day, maybe.

That we in this country are falling deep into the sinful ways of life . . . whee-ee!

That Fidel Castro is kind, merciful church-going, a true democrat and a believer in the great American way of life. But as I said, I lie a bit.

In an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth and may the best man win. That is, the man with the most eyes and teeth.

That wherever there is a man, there is a hairy armpit.

That for every drop of rain that falls, a puddle grows larger.

That never in the history of this country have so few tried to force so many to go to Chapel.

That it is better to give than to receive, so give generously — to me.

Committee To Deal

With Student Pranksters

Dr. Villeneuve was approached by Ron Erb last week concerning the damage done to property by students of W.L.U., Student Council was told on October 30th.

In future, students whose pranks cause serious damage will be dealt with severely by the judiciary committee.

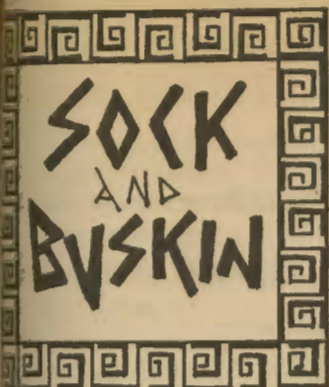

Council was also informed that Dr. Villeneuve was asked to present a "formal policy" concerning the closing of the Torque room. Dr.

Villeneuve is considering the proposal.

At the same meeting it was moved that Student Council should write to the Ontario Legislature objecting to the University of Waterloo application requesting to be known as Waterloo University. The administration of W.L.U. is to be informed of this move.

The Housing Committee's constitution was also accepted.

ECDYSIAST TELLS HER STORY

ME KATE: FRIDAY
 In these blasé times the word "naïve" is a little out of fashion and considered naive. However, those who see Kiss Me Kate will experience just that—an evening that is fun.

The show, with music and lyrics by Cole Porter, has weathered well for 15 years since its opening at the Century Theatre in New York on November 30, 1948.

It will be fun again this year when the Twin City Operatic Society presents Barbara Wolfond in the title role as Kate, and experienced William Cole as Petruchio.

Each of these roles is a double. Miss Wolfond also plays Kate's modern counter-part "Lilli Vanessa", "Fred Graham" who becomes Petruchio. As well, Mr. Cole directs the season's musical.

Opening this Friday (Nov. 9) at the K-W Collegiate Auditorium, the show will run until Wednesday (Nov. 14).

Tickets are on sale at Goudie's Department Store (phone SH 3-3630), and all seats are reserved.

If this proves as popular as last year's production of The Pajama Game, you should pick up your tickets soon.

SOCK-SONGS: SATURDAY
 "An Evening of Folk Songs" is scheduled for this Saturday (November 10) at 8:30 p.m. in the Theatre Auditorium.

Featured are the Wayfarers, a group that was formed here and has now become professional. David Wiffen, Canadian blues-singer and guitarist, and Andy Bregg, master of the banjo, will also perform.

Tickets for the show are $1.50 and are available at our bookstore and the S.U.B.

FILMS ON CAMPUS:
 A film society is being formed at W.U.C. Its organizational meeting was held last Monday afternoon. By next week we should have more information about this.

Persons interested may contact John Scott by phone (742-2133). The society plans to present about 10 groups of films, foreign and otherwise, on Sunday nights.

WORLD WAR ART
 A collection of paintings by Canadian artists from World War I will hang in the newly renovated K-W Art Gallery from November 9 to November 29.

The exhibition contains works by artists who have since become great names in Canadian Art, such as J. W. Beatty, Maurice Cullen and A. Y. Jackson.

Represented graphically in the 24 canvasses and one watercolour which are on loan from the Memorial Collection of the National Gallery of Canada, are the famous events of 1914 to 1918.

At the same time, pieces from the Henry Birks Collection of Antique Canadian Silver will be shown. Some date from 1691. A rare silver-bound copy of the King James Version, dated "Montreal 1775" is included.

The Gallery will be open this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, from 2:00 to 9:30 p.m., and attendants will be on hand to explain the exhibits.

GALLERY HOURS
 Wed.-Sat.-Sun.-2:00 to 5:00 p.m.
 Wed.-Thur.-Fri.-7:30 to 9:30 p.m.
 The Gallery is located at 779 King Street, next to K-W Collegiate.

Carmela:

I sat down in a coffee shop with Carmela, who is a strip-tease artist currently appearing at the Lux Theatre in Toronto. She was relaxed and satisfied with her last performance. The reporter was nervous and had just been disowned by his family.

QUESTION: Has your attitude towards men changed any since entering your profession?

ANSWER: Not at all. I think men are wonderful. There is no replacement for men.

Q: Are you married?

A: No.

Q: What sort of husband are you looking for?

A: Whose looking?

Q: How do you judge an audience as being good or bad?

A: After a very few minutes you can usually tell if an audience is with you or not. It is up to the performer to project warmth. I like to captivate my audiences and have them in the cup of my hand.

Q: Do you have a regular circuit of theatres to travel and work in?

A: I go wherever the money is.

Q: Is timing very important to your act?

A: Timing is of the utmost importance. When the orchestra cuts me off too soon I get terribly upset emotionally.

"TO THE BOYS AT WATERLOO"

Q: Can you sense when an audience is going to be good or bad?

A: Every audience is different. An audience is never really bad if it is given a square deal. The guts of a show must be good. Every act should build up to a pitch. A show must be well balanced.

Q: Do you like your work?

A: I love my work. I have travelled extensively and have met many wonderful people.

Q: Do you consider your work an art?

A: Art is up to the individual. This business is an art. Some people abuse it naturally, but others do not. When I am performing, I am performing, not just trying to stimulate people sexually.

Q: Do you have trouble with mashers?

A: I certainly do, but I must say that in this town (Toronto) the men are very friendly but well behaved.

Q: Have you ever had any frightening experiences since taking up your profession?

A: I was once grabbed in Detroit by two men, but I managed to escape.

Q: Next to strip-teasing, what sort of work would you like to do?

A: I would like to run a lingerie shop specializing in fuzzy, pink nightgowns.

Q: Do you have a mentor in strip-teasing and why?

A: My favourite was a girl named Tina Christie. She was a wonderful performer and had an angelic face.

Q: Have you any hobbies?

A: I like to knit. Right now I am crocheting French poodles for whiskey bottles.

Were You There?

Thirty members of the I.V.C.F. from U. of W. and W.U.C. held a retreat at the Kiwanis Camp, Paradise Lake recently. Reverend Mr. A. P. Lee, B.D., M.A., of Toronto developed the topic "Is Christianity Contemporary?" The week-end activities consisted of discussion groups, canoeing, games, and sing-songs. Another weekend has been planned for the end of January.

Our next activity was a Hobo party in the auditorium. Dave Craig, Paul Reader and Ralph Moore provided games and entertainment for approximately sixty-five students. Professor Keuper of the Geography Department spoke on the abuses and the lack of conservation of our natural resources.

A supper meeting was held, October 30th, in the banquet room. Bruce Evandon spoke on "Operation Crossroads" and showed slides of his summer's work in Africa.

The next event is a lecture by Reverend Mr. Hall, Principal of St. Paul's College, U. of W. He will speak on Christianity's part in nuclear war, Thursday, November 8 in the former dining hall.

A supper meeting will be held at 6:00 p.m. Nov. 13.

Injuries Prevail, Hawks Survive

The Hawks did it again! Before an enthusiastic and no-doubt well-fortified crowd at Seagram's, the WUC Golden Hawks defeated the Ryerson Rams 36-20 last Thursday afternoon. The come-from-behind victory climaxed the second consecutive undefeated season for the football Hawks.

Credit for the team's success must be given to Bob Celeri and his assistants, Glenn Biederman and Dick Buendorf. The combined experience of these men accounts for the team's fantastic record in its brief two-year history. Unfortunately, coach Celeri has had to pay a price for this record in the form of "football ulcer". After each game, he leaves the field as pale as a ghost and clutching a quart of milk.

The Rams started the game in stunning fashion when they returned the kickoff 70 yards, Jim Grant stopping the scoring threat with a diving tackle on the ten yard line. However, four plays later, Ryerson's fullback rammed the ball over for six points. The convert was good. A few minutes later Joy Fex intercepted a Millar pass and on the next play carried 35 yards for the Rams' second score; this time, the extra point was blocked. After seven minutes of play, the board read: Ryerson 13, Waterloo 0.

The tables began to turn and W.U.C. marched down the field.

Ted Favot finished the Hawk drive when he plunged 4 yards off tackle for our first score. Retaliation was swift as Charles Juozaitas returned the kickoff 86 yards for the Rams' third touchdown. So ended the first half: RIT 20 WUC 6. Our Hawks left the field looking confused, dejected and afraid of what they were going to hear from the coach in the next ten minutes.

In the last thirty minutes of the season, WUC proved that they were indeed champions, scoring four unanswered touchdowns. Bill Mitchel started the ball rolling by going 12 yards over right tackle for the six points. His run was the best of the game, as he danced past four or five tacklers to pay-dirt. In the final quarter, Jim Grant took a pitchout from Bill Millar and raced 23 yards to touchdown territory after picking up a key block from Charlie Reiner on the way. Shortly after this expedition into enemy ground, Millar scored, once again using our right tackle as chief blocker. This was Bill's last game for the Hawks; he will be sorely missed next year. The probable successor to the QB position, Jim Randle, completed the scoring for WUC on the last play of the game, when he intercepted a Rams' pass and streaked 60 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. None of the six majors chalked up by the Hawks were converted, as Doug Drynan, our expert in this field, was still suffering from an injured leg, received two weeks ago against HIT.

Six players ended their college careers (football) on Thursday: QB Bill Millar, halfbacks Doug Drynan and Bill Towne, center John Gillies and tackle Sven Sheen. Paul Reader's size and ability will also be missed next year; he was injured earlier this season. As for injuries this game—Drynan was slightly reshaken, and Jim Stapleton received a broken leg, hardly a just end to a superb season of play.

The often-mentioned right tackle was Reid Duncan, a freshman with the team, who played excellent 60 minute football. He is also a member of our stout defensive squad. Center Murray Ross, playing perhaps his best game of the year, was forced to last the whole game at offensive center with kidneys bruised two weeks ago, as there was no substitute for him. Other standouts were Bruce Dorne, —(and other northerners) Jim Grant and Bill Jordan, plus of course the whole defensive line. Bob Erwin also played his best game in a Hawk uniform as he deftly snared passes when the pressure was on the team. All of them went for first downs.

A vote of thanks is due to Bill Miller. Bill's leadership, inspiration and ability have been instrumental in the team's success for the last two years. The offensive line certainly expressed their appreciation of Bill, giving him more time to work than he has probably ever had in his experience as a Q.B.

Congratulations, Hawks, for keeping your record of success unblemished.

FLASHES

Right guard Jim Stapleton is suffering from a broken leg picked up in the game last Thursday. Best wishes from his teammates for a fast recovery.

A vote of thanks to the football manager, Dave Henry, who also mysteriously lost the crease in his trousers.

Pin Setters Inc.

In 5 pin bowling, Michael Webb bowled a high single of 289 and a high double of 541. High ladies' singles were Helen R. with 179 and Bev Keefe with 171.

A meeting is to be held soon to have bowling time changed from 5:00 p.m. to 4:15 p.m., as 5:00 p.m. interferes with the students eating at the dining hall.

In 10 pin bowling, the tie for first place has been broken. The Jokers are now the top team, with the Hawks in second place. The high single for the men was Jim Bruce with 192 and, for the women, Marg James with 154.

Buendorf's Follies

"I don't think we could have done better than we did. It's always nice to be undefeated for the championship. However, my pants need pressing. I don't know if I can wait for a hockey championship before I take my next bath—"

"If we move into a better league we shall need more bench strength as well as better fan support (for every game —). The school has every right to be proud of their team."

B-BALL

The B-ball team is suffering from the fact that our gym has no baskets. These will not be here until November 26, the earliest date given by the contractor. Meanwhile the team is practising at Waterloo Collegiate.

INTERMURAL

The playoff schedule for last Friday in flag football is being played this week instead.
