McLean Candidate for President

Students' Council is the executive, administrative and judicial voice of the Waterloo University College. If it is to be an efficient and effective organization, it must seek the common good of the administration, the faculty and particularly the students.

Endress Installed As Vice-President

by P. Rempel

"Upon this your solemn promise I do now declare you to be the Vice-President: Director of University Resources of Waterloo Lutheran University with all the rights, privileges and obligations pertaining to that office."

With these words, Dr. Villaume, President and Vice-Chancellor of WLU, before a gathering of students and faculty members, officially installed Dr. Henry Endress as Vice-President and Director of University Resources. Approximately 150 turned out to witness the solemn and colourful ceremony held Tuesday morning, February 26, in the Waterloo Lutheran University Theatre-Auditorium.

UNIVERSITY, A MISSION

Dr. Endress described himself as a product of a church related college. "It was in a campus such as this that I found myself in the Christian faith, . . . It was through such college relationships that I gained a sense of gratitude that sought to find expression through the years—and this is why I'm here."

His purpose in accepting the position was the feeling that "higher education is my mission."

He said, "I believe in a quality education in a Christian atmosphere offered not only to our own Lutheran youth but, as a great service of the Lutheran church, to all who come to our campus to prepare themselves for life intellectually and spiritually."

The duties of Dr. Endress will be mainly to contact people locally and across Canada through various news media and personal visit and tell them of Waterloo University College.

"Every university and college needs all the friends it can get."

DIVINE CALLING

"I believe," said Dr. Endress in conclusion, "that God has called us—you and I— together for such a time as this—to develop the resources of this university. Waterloo Lutheran University has come through days of crisis in a glorious way. Its growth in student body, faculty, and facilities astounds even those who lead. God had blessed our decisions. He has blessed our efforts. He will continue to bless Waterloo Lutheran University through us together."

"As for me, I shall work fervently with you and for you. I ask for patience, understanding, and good will."

VALUE INDEPENDENCE

In his speech welcoming Dr. Endress to service with the university, Students' Council President, Ron Erb, warned that there are many dangers when a university such as WLU experiences rapid growth. With rapid growth, he said, such things as student traditions often suffer and are neglected or trampled upon.

"Above all (students) respect their independence—their freedom to education, to plan their own activities and their own lives—and they guard it jealously."

If students need advice they will seek it and then, only when they feel they need it. But coercion, he said, will only result in rebellion. "And so, there is no need for an open-door policy for students. When they need help, they will come and knock."

Welcoming speeches were also given by Mr. Harry D. Greb, Chairman of the Board of Governors, and Professor Clark, secretary of the Faculty Council.

The invocation was given by Dr. Dolbeer and the benediction by Dr. Houser, President of Waterloo Lutheran Seminary.

Europe Approves W.U.C. Professor

by Harold Armstrong

Recently returned from an evangelism mission in Kentucky, Dr. John Warwick Montgomery announced that he will be carrying out research the next academic year at the University of Strasbourg under two of Europe's leading protestant scholars.

Dr. Montgomery's project, producing the first scholarly history of theological bibliography, has been accepted as a thesis topic by the University of Strasbourg. Dr. Montgomery will study under Professor le Doyen, Francois Wendel, one of the greatest living authorities on Calvin's theology and under Professor Regin Preter of Denmark, who has written a comprehensive study of Luther's concept of the Holy Spirit.

A second project Dr. Montgomery will complete in Europe is a translation of Louis Jacob de Saint-Charles' hitherto unedited history of libraries.

Dr. Montgomery has received a Canada Council post-doctoral grant of $5,000 and a supplementary grant from W.L.U. to support him and his family while they are in Europe next year.

The University of Strasbourg approved Dr. Montgomery's candidacy for its theological doctorate without requiring him to take the usual preliminary examinations. On completing his thesis Dr. Montgomery should receive the degree of Docteur de L'Universite.

Assembly Speaker Anglican Clergyman

The Rev. Dr. Frank Nock, well-known pastor of the Anglican Church in Ontario, will be the speaker for the monthly Religious Assembly to be held Tuesday, March 12, 9:50 a.m. in the Theatre-Auditorium. He has served for many years in the Algoma Diocese, largest in Ontario, which stretches from the Lakehead to North Bay. At present he is Rector of St. Luke's Cathedral in Sault St. Marie and Dean of Algoma.

Dr. Nock is a graduate of Trinity College, University of Toronto, both in Arts and Theology. He has also received an honorary degree from Trinity.

During the week that Dr. Nock will speak at WLU, he will also be the noon-day Lenten speaker at St. John the Evangelist Church in Kitchener. Archdeacon Lightbourn of that congregation assures us that Dr. Nock is a dynamic speaker who has a real message to give to students.

McLeod Candidate For President

I would first like to thank the Editor of the Cord for giving me an opportunity to write this article. This attitude of interest and concern for the welfare of the students during an election campaign is unparalleled in the history of The Cord and The College.

BILL McLEOD

In my request for student support in the forthcoming election I do not wish to hold up a string of past accomplishments as reasons why you should vote for me. What I have done and the positions I have held on this campus is evident to you and I feel that it is more constructive to look to the future.

It would be most naive for us to think that there are no problems facing us as a university and as a student body. However it would be equally naive for us to approach them with anything less than a mature and responsible attitude. It is my intention, if elected to try to solve our problems in this manner.

If I were to assume the position of President the following are proposals to make student government as efficient as possible. I would ask Council to consider the following.

Separate the duties of the Undergraduate Chairman so that the Chairman of the Student Union Board of Governors will not be burdened with activities not concerned with the Student Union Building.

Eliminate red tape that ties our hands in the form of useless complicated and contradictory constitutions and policy statements.

Run Students' Council meetings strictly according to parliamentary procedure to stop wasting council members time and to make the meetings interesting enough for the student body to attend.

Press for more committee work on Council so that problems are thoroughly researched before they are legislated upon.

Establish a position of Chief Electoral Officer to supervise all elections on campus.

Have a proper polling booth and a locked ballot box at all campus elections.

Approach Student-Administration problems with a firm but reasonable attitude. Firmness tempered with reason and responsibility is always respected and often successful.

I urge each student to exercise his franchise tomorrow. Only by voting can you, the student show your interest in your activities.

OPINION

When one feels intellectually, spiritually, and socially capable of attending an institution of higher learning, he should above all else realize his position at the university and also the position of all his acquaintances. If any individual at Waterloo University College understands the essence of the aforementioned remark his stay here will be much happier as will the lives of those with whom he associates.

This remark is à propos at this time as a result of the attitude of certain specific persons towards the student council elections.

Although in full agreement with a function such as Creative Arts Week as part of the cultural life of students of a university, it is unfortunate that this program is scheduled the same week as Student Council elections.

In my opinion having both these important aspects of university life overlapping in the manner in which they are this year deters from the ultimate success of both.

As the executive for the Students Council of our next academic year will be elected tomorrow . . . "now is the hour" to recommend to the candidates that if elected to Council they show more foresight in the scheduling of important activities next year.

One test for the ultimate efficiency of a candidate or a representative is that he should contribute his quota of thought before action on the numerous problems which will confront him during his term of office. If each situation is dealt with in a logical manner with some contemplation on the part of the representatives, the result will in all likelihood be more satisfactory to all concerned.

Tomorrow morning the polls open and each student will have the opportunity to vote for the executive members of our next Students Council. Vote . . . but before you do consider seriously the ability of each candidate to think constructively for our benefit.

The selection of the executive members of Students' Council should not be the result of a popularity contest. The ability of each candidate for the respective positions should be of prime importance considering the numerous problems which will confront us in the future as a growing university.

The executive of council next year must consist of people who will be able to understand and interpret student problems as well as problems which involve the administration.

There are those candidates seeking election who will serve the students and the university. When you vote consider closely the choice you make.

'Twould appear that whoever up there is responsible for hiring members of the administrative staff has finally found a Canadian Lutheran with talent in a field that is necessary to the carrying on of the business of a university. We refer, naturally to the appointment of Miss Helene Forler to the post of Assistant Registrar.

To Miss Forler we say welcome to Waterloo University College. (When you were hired, Miss Forler, they may have told you that you were working for Waterloo Lutheran University; but we say welcome to WUC.)

And to you, up there, we say, Oh thank you! Thank you! Thank you!

After reading our beloved Editor's (we even capitalized it, Mike) editorial in last week's issue (if that is what it could be called) of the Cord Weekly, we have come to one conclusion. Students' Council next year should create a post especially for Mike and give him the title of Cord Advisor to Students' Council.

Failing that, he has promised to take out American citizenship, return in a few years, and replace Professor Durst as Faculty Advisor.

Apart from urging all students to vote in the elections tomorrow, we will commit ourself on only one point. Don't vote for Ernie O'Kell—for once he isn't even running.

We didn't want to see our weekly space turn into an obituary column but Bob McMullen has asked us to mention that twelve of his white rats died. Our condolences, Bob.—when's the wake?

Last week, for the few faithful, who turned up for the installation of Dr. Endress, there was cause for great surprise (and for some, disgust) in the nature of Students' Council President Ron Erb's welcome address to Dr. Endress. Some seemed to feel that it was an open insult by an attempt to rehash all the problems of the past.

We see it differently.

This did not seem to us as any form of insult. It was obvious that Ron had weighed his words most carefully and those familiar with the situation as it was would realize the true depth of his speech. Was it not best to have the sentiments of the student body drawn out Indiscretion?

Dear Mr. Editor:

May I, through the media of your newspaper, record my disappointment and embarrassment, of the speech delivered by President Erb at the installation of our new Vice-President.

I fail to understand, how we as students, could not but benefit from the advice and knowledge of this gentleman in our student affairs, and our academic work.

It was a regret, I feel, that the age old conflict of non-co-operation between students and administration was brought out once again. Especially at a time when it was certainly uncalled for.

Mr. Vice-President, I hope I speak for the majority of my fellow students when I say sincerely and simply, "Welcome to Waterloo".

Dear Sir:

We have the distinguished honour of being members of the committee to raise fifty million to be used for placing a statue of John Diefenbaker in front of the Parliament Buildings.

This committee was in quite a quandary about selecting the proper location for the statue. It was thought not wise to place it beside the statue of Arthur Miegheon who never told a lie, nor beside MacKenzie King, who never told the truth, since John Diefenbaker could never tell the difference.

After careful consideration, we think it should be placed beside the statue of Christopher Columbus,

The purpose of the speeches was to have the various groups welcome Dr. Endress to his post—and this is precisely what Ron did in his speech. But it was also very helpful to have the position of the student body clearly presented.

"Above all (students) respect their independence—their freedom to education, to plan their own activities and their own lives—and they guard it jealously." Have not these exact sentiments been expressed often, and in more blunt terms, in the Cord?

We congratulate Ron Erb for his honesty and forthrightness in his speech. Slushy, hypocritical sentimentality is not his style.

Library Complaint

An open letter to the Administration:

During the last month the number of term papers and essays has increased. In proportion to this increase in work has been an even greater increase in frustration.

Frustration caused by the pathetic library facilities found on this campus. It is next to impossible to obtain the necessary reference books and other material needed to complete one's assignments. A person spends as much time trying to reserve the needed books as doing the assignments themselves. In many courses a particular book has to be read within a certain deadline. As many as 70 students then are all trying to secure this book—only to find the library stocks the book, but in many cases, only one copy, I, as well as many others, to resort to going as far as

Many times when you pick it up that the person reserved it the night before yet returned it. You track this person down a book.

Whose fault is this? Is the administration and students.

It is partly the administration because they have wasted building residences which are needed, instead of building adequate library and purchasing books. A recent U.S. library facilities on Canadian campuses revealed that all our universities have very poor libraries.

It is impossible to study in a library because of the conditions, but that is not the reason of our references working.

If this university wastes money it can get a reputation as the best library in Canada on the university campus. That the university is interested in the search for knowledge and the administration in action makes one wonder.

The students can help solve the problem of lack of books by returning them on time. They would like to commend the staff for the excellent job they are doing. Considering the need and lack of facilities it is a wonder that they operate as well as they do.

It is no small wonder the university fails to attract the students—one look at the and they flee in horror.

Erb - Glass Statement

Since September there has been considerable controversy between students and administration over chapel attendance. The conflict arose when an attempt was made to coerce students into attending chapel, thereby increasing attendance figures. The obvious signs of coercion were removed although the attitude still remains. Student Council and Faith and Life Council do not wish to assume the responsibility for ensuring a certain number of bodies at each chapel service.

They do, however, wish to encourage any students who feel the desire of daily religious devotion to attend chapel. It is in this attitude that this letter is being written. We do not wish students to allow grudges or hard feelings they might bear against the people initially responsible

Many problems have been solved, yet many more still remain. If elected I feel my acquaintance with the current problems will be beneficial to the necessary solutions in the problems of the next year.

The Vice President is delegated many specific duties as outlined by the constitution of the Students' Council. The most important duties are: to serve on the Finance Committee, to serve as prosecutor for the Judicial Committee, and to serve on the Honours Awards Society. Having served on both the Judicial Committee and the Honours Awards Society I feel that I am aware of the procedures followed. There is a possibility that next year the Vice President will be the Chairman of Student Assemblies. If this should become a duty of the Vice President I would accept this and serve to the best of my ability. I propose that more of the assemblies be devoted to the use of the exceptional talent of the students as witnessed at the Variety Show during the Ice Carnival Weekend. I also suggest that assemblies be used for the students to display their public speaking talent and also that we invite prominent speakers from our own faculty and outside our institution.

My greatest desire is to serve the students of our university. I hope the students will allow me to do so.

The Vice President of Waterloo University College's Students' Council is in theory the second in command but in practice his influence is dependent on the interest and capabilities of the person who holds the office. In council meetings and the other various students functions at which the Vice President is expected to attend it is his duty to offer advice and thoughts on the matter at hand. In order to do this in a way which would give credit to his office he must be able to draw on knowledge gained through experience with student activities. It is my opinion that I have this knowledge. I am a second year student in Honour

Economics. In my first year at W.U.C. I was elected Freshman President. In this capacity I served on the Students' Council and two of its committees; the Judiciary Committee and the Parking Committee. Along with my council duties, I endeavoured to inject some level of enthusiasm and interest into the Freshman Class. The grand finale of the year was the "Purple and Gold Ball" presented by the Freshman Class and a resounding success. I was awarded an Honourable Mention in the Freshman Class Activity Award. This year I have attempted to participate in more diversified activities. I was a member of the Freshman Initiation Committee and was directly concerned with Shine-rama. As Business Manager of the Purple and Gold Revue I gained experience in the handling of funds which would be valuable on the Finance Committee of which the Vice President is a member. I also was a member of the Ice Carnival Committee and I think all of you will agree that this was an unqualified success. I am a member of the Student Union Board of Governors which this week is presenting the Creative Arts Festival. In my opinion in the office of Vice President, experience counts and I feel that I have this experience. If given the chance I only promise to be a strong member of council and advance the interests of you, the student at all times.

The Cord has been good enough to allow me a few lines to express to everyone on campus my plea for your support in the coming election for the position of Undergraduate chairman.

As many of you are aware, this position requires regular attendance and active participation at Student Council meetings. The Undergrad chairman should be an enthusiastic and hard working student dedicated to promoting student activities as well as being active on council as they have been in the past.

Due to the fact that the Undergrad chairman is responsible for co-ordinating all the activities with the various administration functions, he should be very familiar with all the activities on campus in order that they do not conflict and so that a balanced and stable program may be offered throughout the academic year.

The Student Union Board of Governors is another facet of the Undergraduate Chairman's responsibility. In view of this, I would like to see higher quality movies at regular intervals presented on our campus.

As I mentioned in the campaign speech yesterday, I am not presenting a lot of political hub-hub by making numerous promises. My reason for this is that during campaigns, many people make promises which they later find are impossible to carry out. However, I do want to assure you that if elected I will, using my previous council experience, do my utmost to represent the students of W.U.C. on council and at the various campus functions.

If you feel that I am the best candidate for the position, I would appreciate your support on election day. Also if you have any questions with respect to the duties of the Undergrad chairman, please feel free to discuss them with me.

BRIAN BAKER

Tomorrow morning the students of Waterloo University College will elect the executive of the Students' Council for the year 1963-64. I feel it to be an honour to have been asked to run for the position of Vice President. The request of my nominating committee and my desire to serve the student body of this university have contributed to my decision to stand for election.

To realize that a Freshman has to learn about university life in general. As President of the Freshman Class this year I have had many opportunities to learn the set-up of the Students' Council.

in the Arts Building. By this limitation, the Undergrad. Chairman has fulfilled another duty, that of administering a poster policy.

Many students use the Student Union Building every day; yet, do not realize that the Undergrad. Chairman together with the Student Union Board of Governors administer a budget and decides upon policies affecting activities within that building. When a "slack" week-end occurs it is the responsibility of the Student Union Board of Governors to provide entertainment. The Creative Arts Festival is an example of the potential of the Student Union Building, with respect to student activities.

On Students' Council itself the Undergrad. Chairman helps to administer policies that effect each student and assists in proposing a budget for the Council.

Next year if we are to maintain our school interest and participation it will be necessary to have better co-ordination for our activities; and aid in avoiding the possibility of student interest wearing thin. For example any students on campus are sincerely interested in Creative Arts Festival; yet many of their ideas are not utilized.

There are a few times throughout the year that conflicts arise in connection with co-ordination of activities but with interest and co-operation on the part of those involved the majority of conflicts is avoided.

I have devoted these remarks with the intention of acquainting the student body with some of the useful purposes which the Undergraduate Chairman serves to council and our school activities. If elected by the students in the election tomorrow it is my sincerest intention to put the best interests of the entire student body first.

DENNIS BROOKS

GORD RICH

Approximately three weeks ago I was asked to stand as a candidate for the position of Vice president on the 1963-64 Students' Council. Since that time I have given considerable thought to the various problems which concern the student body of a university community. To merely think about solutions to the dilemmas with which we are confronted serves no useful purpose except to oneself. I then decided to definitely stand for the position of Vice President feeling that if elected I could possibly be beneficial to the student body and our entire university.

The major topic of discussion on campus this year has been conflict; administration, faculty, and student. This constant bickering has led to an unhealthy attitude on the part of many students. Members of the student body have lost considerable interest in their own activities. We all realize that this situation should not be allowed to continue on into another academic year. It is my opinion that the Students' Council next year should be composed of individuals who are genuinely concerned with the divergent interests of the student body. The topic "channels of communication" has led to unfortunate misunderstandings among the student body, the Students' Council and the Administration. The lack of understanding in some instances and the failure to respect the position of each faction has in part been responsible for disagreements which possibly could have been avoided. Each should understand his function in relation to his status as an integral part of the institution. From the student viewpoint I feel that the student body has not been properly informed as to the status of the Students' Council as its voice in matters which directly concern their activity. The student body is also not kept up to date on just what their Students' Council is doing for them throughout the year. I would propose to Council upon election that they appoint a student Public Relations officer whose specific duty would be to inform the students as to the action being taken by council. The Public Relation officer would also alleviate some of the pressure placed on the Undergraduate Chairman by assisting in giving proper publicity to student functions.

If elected to the position of Vice President for the academic year 1963-64 it is my sincere desire to represent and promote the general interests of the students as I like our school and believe that our future is bright.

In conclusion I would like to thank the Cord Weekly for allowing me space for these remarks.

Condolences to our basketball team, you played well and I feel, deserved the right to be called champions. As fans we should be proud of our team, for they certainly did their part to make W.U.C. known for its athletic prowess. Credit for such a successful season should not only go to the first stringers, who started each game, but also to our bench strength who enabled our strong Waterloo style finish.

The few people who witnessed the Hockey Hawks triumph over Laurentian will without doubt be in the arena once again tomorrow night, HOW ABOUT YOU? The Hawks fought for the chance to meet Ryerson once again. They outplayed and outscored the opposition. They will be playing with even more determination on Thursday. We play the Rams two games, one here and one away, the total points accumulated by each team will determine the league champion.

INTRA MURAL NEWS

In the not too distant past our Volley Ball squad placed third in a meet held at Ontario Agricultural College. Actually we made rather an impressive showing, as we were the only team to defeat O.A.C. who incidentally took top honours. McMaster came second, followed by W.U.C. with H.I.T. and the Engineers bringing up the rear.

Coming Events

March 11th . . . a round robin tournament for the intra mural basketball league to be followed on the twelfth by the final game for the championship.

Ten Pin Bowling

Last Saturday at the Skyway Lanes in Hamilton was the scene of the third annual intra-university bowling tournament. Four schools sent a total of seven teams; competing were University of Western Ontario, Hamilton Institute of Technology, Ryerson Institute of Technology and Waterloo University College. Arriving in Hamilton, we were first given the wrong address. When we arrived, we had about fifteen minutes to eat, digest our food, find a suitable ball and get ready to bowl. The problem of finding a suitable ball was a chore in itself. Arriving late, we naturally got the leftover or rejected ones. There were an array of balls, all sizes and number of finger holes. There were two, three, four and five finger balls. The majority of the balls were unfit for throwing or suitable for tournament play. The lanes themselves were another picture to behold. On first glance, they looked like old five-pin lanes converted to ten-pin. They were old, poorly kept and very old-fashioned looking. These lanes did not, to me, seem the right bowling establishment for tournament play. Even the arrangement for team competition was poorly designed. We got to play four out of the seven teams. I hope next year the tournament will be held maybe at the modern Hamilton Centre lanes or even at Highland Bowl.

Under these adverse conditions and handicaps, our two teams showed great sportsmanship. We finished second behind Hamilton and fifth behind two of Western's teams. Dave Robertson bowled the second high game of the day of 206, one pin behind the high single. Our second place team bowled the high team game of the day with 749.

HAWKS LOSE IN BASKETBALL FINAL

by Dave Freeman

Large crowds at McMaster University watched the W.U.C. basketball squad succumb to Laurentian University by the score of 78-69.

Laurentian wins the championship of the O.I.A.A. basketball league as a result. To enter the finals the Hawks beat O.A.C. 61-46 while Laurentian overcame McMaster 74-62.

In the semi-finals game O.A.C. took an early 8 point lead but by half-time their advantage was cut to 27-26. After the half-time break there was no doubt about the result as the Hawks piled up a 40-30 edge with only five minutes gone in the second half. After that the Hawks were never in trouble as they put in reserves. The victory was marred by an injury to starting forward Bob Eaton. The injury was bad enough to keep him from playing the following night except for a brief appearance in the first half. The Hawks were led in the O.A.C. game by Bob Turner with 14 and Garry Cuff with 10. Bob Woodburn and Court Heinbuck added 8 apiece.

In the championship tilt the game was a dogfight all the way. Laurentian broke in front 6-2 but the Hawks rallied and lead 11-8 after 6 minutes were played. This was the last time the Hawks were to lead in the ball game. Laurentian then relied on the brilliant performances of their two guards Horeck and Gibson to pull away to a 38-31 half-time lead. Horeck was especially tough in the first half as he put in 20 points from all points on the floor. In the second half Laurentian quickly increased their lead to 14 points but then the Hawks went to work. Led by the fantastic shooting of Court Heinbuck and the rebounding of Turner and Cuff, the Hawks pecked away at the victors margin and with 6 minutes were within 3 points. But the Hawks couldn't come any closer than that and with Bob Woodburn fouling out, Laurentian then increased their margin and ran out the clock to win 78-69. Horeck with 35 and Gibson with 17 sparked the winners while Court Heinbuck playing his finest game of the year lead the Hawks with 26. Bob Turner added 14, Garry Cuff, filling in ably for injured Bob Eaton potted 9 while Bob Woodburn contributed 7.

The Hawks season is now at an end. They ended with a fine record of 17-7 and a finalist berth in the O.I.A.A. playoffs. This will have been the Hawks last appearance in the O.I.A.A. League. Prospects are bright that the Hawks will move up into the Ontario-Quebec A.A. and play an exhibition schedule with games against possibly Assumption, Western, U. of McMaster, and U. of Waterloo. The eventual plan is for the Hawks to join the O.Q.A.A. league in 2 or 3 years and compete for the championship of this top league. Prospects are bright for an even better team next year as 11 of the 12 players will be returning next year which should provide a fine nucleus for next year's club.

Congratulations should be given coach Jim Swartz for the fine job of coaching he did throughout the year and also to Mr. Buendorf for the time he spent in aiding in the coaching department. The team consisted of Court Heinbuck, Bob Woodburn—captain, John Lewis, Bob Turner, Bob Eaton, Garry Cuff, Ed Ochiena, Murray Williams, Earl Linzon, Doug Dart, John McKenzie, Mike Brouseau and managers Dave Freeman and Jim Grant. This was a fine club which came within one game of winning another championship for W.U.C.
